LIQUID LOVE CODE - Angeli

Meditation

This is the Angeli meditation to help you activate the Liquid Love Code within your Unconditional Love Body.

1- Take a deep breath. Relax into your body. Now envision yourself as a perfect sphere. You are beautiful and golden. You have shimmering energy on the inside that is radiating beautiful yellow light. You may notice that your sphere is spinning. If it is, allow it to do so. Some of you might have it stationary. That is okay, too.

2- As you are breathing in the energy, envision that you are taking it in from the lower end of your sphere (like through the bottom part of it). The energy moves internally through the sphere to the top and then back down. It is circulating within the sphere. With every breath you take you pull energy in through the lower hemisphere and then you exhale through the upper hemisphere of your sphere. Do this again, in and out. Again, inhaling energy up from the bottom into the entire lower half of your sphere. And again, exhaling into and throughout the entire upper half of your sphere.

3- Take another deep breath. Ahhh. You are peacefully floating at the middle of your sphere, right in the center. You are witnessing your sphere as it gets bigger and larger. It keeps getting bigger and larger. This is the Angeli energy tuning in and connecting with you. It is amplifying your sphere. You are floating in this beautiful golden cloud of energy.

4- Good. Now bring your awareness to the inside of your body. Notice the activity of each tiny capillary everywhere within your physical body. They don't have to follow your physical anatomy. We are not talking about nerves or blood vessels. We are talking about the Microtubulars that are within each and every cell, no matter what type of cell it is. They are breathing in this golden light. They are circulating that light everywhere within your body. Notice if there is any place in your body that doesn't have as much of the activity of this beautiful golden light. Tune into your body. Feel if there is a place that is asking for your attention. Is there a place that is looking for more of this beautiful energy to support it? If so, allow it to come into that area in your body.

5- Good. Now expand your awareness from your physical body further out to a couple of inches beyond your body. Notice how the Microtubular Pathways extend beyond your skin. Notice them being a couple of inches beyond your entire body, everywhere.

6- Great. Now take another deep breath and expand a little bit more. Let's say a foot out from the body. Now you have these capillaries or tiny pathways breathing this beautiful golden light, extending and expanding out about a foot beyond your physical body. Feel that energy. Notice how the Unconditional Liquid Love that supports you no matter what is being poured in by the Angeli Beings. It is being poured into your entire sphere. Notice how the little pathways of your Microtubular Network that you just extended about a foot beyond your body are hungry for that energy of Unconditional Love.

7- Notice how they begin to expand even further. Your capillaries that have grown beyond the shape of you to about a foot bigger than your body have now grown even further into two or three or five feet beyond your body. They are like tiny pathways in all directions, 360° around you. They are above you and below you, in front of you and behind you. They are everywhere. They are soaking in this beautiful golden light of Unconditional Love that is being offered to you by the Angeli Guardians. It is being resonated into your sphere right now. They are delivering this energy all the way to your physical body and all the way to the core of you.

8- Let it feed the part of you that needs it the most. Maybe it is your inner child that needs this. Maybe it's a particular wound that you carry that needs this. Maybe it's a physical condition or a part of your body that needs this. Allow this energy to go wherever it is wanting to go. Wherever you feel the need. There is no separation. Whatever you are hungry for you can have enough of it. More than enough. You can have the abundance of it all of the time available for you.

9- Good. Take another deep breath. Ahhh. Expand the little capillaries all the way outward to match your entire Golden Sphere. You might be a huge size now. Bigger than the room where you are. Bigger than the house you are in. You could be the size of a Planet or a Galaxy. Expand as large as you wish. You could also stay smaller, within your shape. That's okay, too. Allow yourself to not be constricted in size by anything. Whatever shape and size you want to become, be that and then expand your sphere to match it.

10- Now your entire sphere is interpenetrated by those tiny capillaries. They are like pores extending like miniature portals. They are all around the surface of your sphere so that they can soak in the Unconditional Love Code that the Angeli Guardians are beaming to your sphere. All along the pathways the Liquid Love energy is moving through your entire sphere. They are hydrating your sphere with the Liquid Love energy.

11- Bring the energy further down to the center of your sphere where your physical body is. The energy is feeding every cell of your body with this incredibly beautiful Liquid Love energy. If you are visual you might notice that the frequency is going through different colors. If you're sound oriented you may notice different tones. If you are more sentient, sense or feeling oriented you might notice more sensations or feelings.

12- In color it looks like the Pure Love is an almost transparent gold. It is transparent with just a touch of gold that becomes a bright gold with beautiful yellow energy. As it goes further down in density it becomes green. A beautiful green found in nature. That is a color of Unconditional Love resonance that our physical body can comprehend and digest.

13- If you are resonating more through sound you might hear a higher note and then a beautiful chord with all the following notes in alignment, stair stepping down and then further down to match your heart resonance.

14- If you are more sensation oriented it would feel like a beautiful very light liquid and then it would become a little thicker and like it is a very nourishing warm liquid. Almost as though it went from something like water consistency to something that feels like honey and then to the sensation closer to a protein smoothie with lots of green goodness in it that your physical body could eat and digest.

15- This is an explanation of this energy. Right now, you're experiencing this pathway of higher frequency very liquid light energy coming in through the outside of your sphere following those little capillaries as it gets a little bit denser. By the time it arrives to your physical body it is a little bit further down and denser. This is the Liquid Love. It's Unconditional and it is available to you at all times.

16- You have just programmed yourself with the Liquid Love Code so from now on you can resonate with the Angeli Guardians. You have attuned your energy field, your physical body, your brain, your cellular structure and your DNA to the Liquid Love Code.

17- Take a deep breath and feel it in your heart. Bring all the energy from your sphere into your heart. Hold it there for a moment letting your heart feel like it will forever have enough.

Be LOVE. Be FREE. Be GOD.
