RUSS & DAUGHTERS

At the Jewish Museum
Restaurant & Take-Out Appetizing Counter

After more than a century on the Lower East Side, Russ & Daughters, the New York City culinary landmark famous for their bagels and lox, smoked fish and traditional baked goods, opened a restaurant and take-out appetizing counter at the Jewish Museum, on the Upper East Side. Presenting appetizing classics with timeless appeal in the Museum's beautiful and historic setting, it's a match that is, as they say, bashert (meant-to-be)!

Russ & Daughters at the Jewish Museum is the perfect place to nosh during your visit. The restaurant also offers a popular book-ahead Saturday Shabbat Brunch, and private event rentals for any occasion, including weddings, brides, and bar and bat mitzvahs. Catering, and delivery orders of their world-famous food are also available, from generous platters to just a bissel.

For private events, Shabbat Brunch reservations, catering, or delivery orders, visit russanddaughters.com/jewishmuseum

Archaeology Zone:
Discovering Treasures from Playgrounds to Palaces

Ongoing
Inspired by the Museum's renowned collection, this interactive children's exhibition reveals what happens after archaeologists unearth artifacts. Kids take on the role of archaeologists as they search for clues about objects dating from ancient times to the present day.

Kids Gallery Guides available at the admission desk and Floor 4.

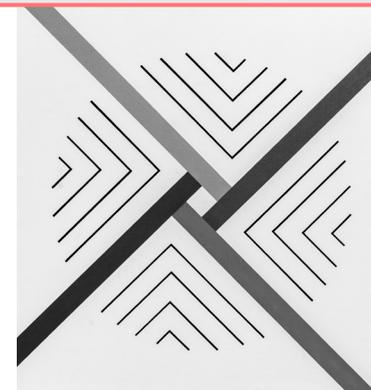

Children's exhibition closed Saturdays and select Jewish holidays.

Scenes from the Collection

Ongoing
This dynamic installation of the Jewish Museum's collection draws from the Museum's holdings of nearly 30,000 objects, with each item touching on a facet of the broader Jewish experience. Now on view, see the playful and ingenious work of influential graphic designer and artist Elaine Lustig Cohen, whose designs helped to shape the Jewish Museum's institutional identity in the 1960s. Starting October 12, explore a selection of more than 80 Hanukkah lamps from the Museum's unparalleled collection of close to 1,050 pieces, reflecting the diverse ways in which Jews all over the world have celebrated the holiday from the Renaissance to modern times.

Chagall, Lissitzky, Malevich:
The Russian Avant-Garde in Vitebsk, 1918–1922

September 14, 2018 – January 6, 2019
Through nearly 160 works, this exhibition explores a little-known but transformative chapter in the history of modernity and the Russian avant-garde, when Marc Chagall, El Lissitzky, Kazimir Malevich and others came together in the small city of Vitebsk seeking to develop their distinct visions for a revolutionary art.

Organized by the Centre Pompidou, Paris, in collaboration with the Jewish Museum

LOBBY

Eva LeWitt

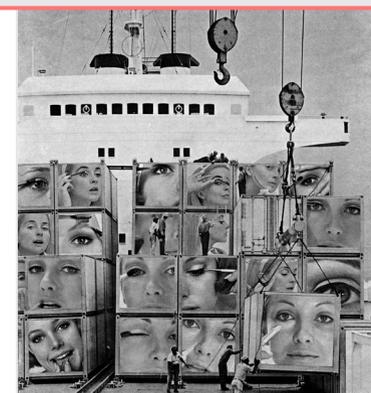

November 2, 2018 – March 19, 2019
New York based sculptor Eva LeWitt constructs site-specific works in soft, pliable, and translucent materials that accommodate subtle renderings of tone and transparency, allowing for a lyrical play of color and light. She will present a newly commissioned project for the Jewish Museum lobby.

Eliza Douglas

Through October 21, 2018
Eliza Douglas creates precariously balanced paintings that merge realism and abstraction, and upturn traditional self-portraiture.

Martha Rosler: Irrespective

November 2 – March 3, 2019
Influential artist Martha Rosler weds a strong engagement with social and political issues with incisive critique. From her feminist and anti-war photomontages to her large-scale installations, the artist's vital work—including photography, sculpture, installation, and video—reflects an enduring and passionate vision.
