MORE THAN CLOSURES

Closing rings

Tri-Sure® closing rings are the solution for sealing and securing open head containers. Closing rings provide easy access to the containers while at the same time ensuring the contents of the container are secured. Customers can choose from a range of options depending on the material of construction, finish and application. Steel closing rings come in two basic types:

- Bolt
- Lever

The lever type closing ring comes with a wide range of levers for different ring applications.

Design

Tri-Sure® offers standard closing rings as well as custom-designed closing rings to fit unique open head containers.

Depending on the container contents, some applications require a more robust ring design that can fulfill UN packaging regulations. This flexibility in design can be achieved through a wide range of ring profiles, customized sizes and closing accessories that can be either riveted or welded to the ring.
