

Western New Mexico University is an NCAA Division 2 school that happens to be one of the most affordable 4-year institutions in the entire country. WNMU offers in-state tuition to not only New Mexico residents, but also El Paso, TX, Arizona, and Colorado residents.

The tennis program at WNMU is run by two coaches fresh out of their own college tennis playing experience. These coaches include Head Coach Alex Hunt and Graduate Assistant Griffin Weinkam. The goal of the program is to give each and every WNMU Tennis player the best collegiate tennis playing experience they can imagine. Coach Hunt and Coach Weinkam use their successes and failures from their own playing experience to build a team culture set on producing great teammates and leaders. One other goal of the WNMU Tennis program moving forward is to build a sense of community in the Southwest United States. WNMU is looking to recruit players from the USTA Southwest section so that family and friends of the student-athlete can always conveniently make it out to matches to see their family member or friend thrive in the collegiate tennis setting. If you are in the USTA Southwest Section, odds are that you will qualify for in-state tuition. That makes an already affordable education even more affordable. WNMU Tennis has a bright future and we'd love for some USTA Southwest section players to be a part of it.
