Long Island Youth Safety Coalition's
Sports Safety Conference

Keeping our youth physically and ethically safe on the field
Featuring WFAN's Rick Wolff

SAVE THE DATE!

The Long Island Youth Safety Coalition is pleased to announce a timely conference on sports safety. Sports can be a marvelous part of youth development with a bounty of benefits. However there is a dark side with a host of new dangers to guard against. We not only face the world of physical harm but also a range of social dangers including criminal assaults, bullying, sexual abuse, corruption, discrimination, and substance abuse. All of these pose not only great harm to our youth but considerable legal trouble to all who manage sports. District Attorney Kathleen M. Rice and our Coalition would like to engage our schools, youth agencies, and all who host sports programs, to work with us. We have gathered an array of talented presenters, workshops, and resources of practical value on all of these problems as well as gender issues, nutrition, medical perspectives, legalities, and concussions

Capacity will be limited again so we urge you to put your claims in process now. The formal registration materials should be out by mid October.
