

Virgina Renouard, also known as Ginger, came to the Southwest in 1961, but her love for tennis began in the 1950s.

When she came to the Southwest, she volunteered for what used to be the Phoenix District Tennis Association, now USTA Central Arizona. For over 35 years, Ginger volunteered for the district and section.

She served as Phoenix Area President, Vice President, and Secretary. Additionally, she was the Southwest Section Vice President for 11 years.

She has been the recipient of prestigious USTA National awards. But most importantly, Ginger has been responsible for encouraging many other people to become involved in tennis through volunteer work.

In addition to being inducted into the Central Arizona Hall of Fame, Ginger was inducted into the Southwest Section Hall of Fame in 2003.
