USTA Girls' 14 Nationals Pre-Tournament Drills

Aug 4-5, 2005

To help players prepare for the 2005 USTA Girls' 14 National Championships, Peachtree City Tennis Center is offering a series of drills. The drills allow the players to acquaint themselves with the tournament courts and their surroundings. More importantly, the drills help acclimate the players to the heat and humidity of the Atlanta area. The drills emphasize hot weather preparation and handling competition in a humid environment.

Six hours of supervised drills will be held. A two-hour session will be held Thursday evening at 6:30p.m. Friday's two-hour morning session will begin at 10:00a.m., and the afternoon session will begin at 2:00p.m..

Although there will be plenty of competition, there will be no "one on one" competition between the players. Games, featuring tennis skills and movements, will provide "low pressure" competitive opportunities. We want the players to have fun while preparing for the tournament.

The past drills have given players the opportunity to socialize in a relaxed setting. The atmosphere of the tournament is more congenial when a significant number of players take part in the drills. Some parents have commented that the drills had more impact on their daughters than any other aspect of the Girls' 14 Super Nationals.

Please, indicate which sessions you plan to attend.

Practice courts will be limited on Friday, so the drills are an excellent way to be guaranteed practice on the match courts.

If you have any questions, contact Robert Sasseville at (770) 631-0930 or by e-mail: robert@goodsports.us.

Indoor courts are available on site, so the drills will be held, rain or shine.
