2014 Texas Tennis Hall of Fame Inductees

George H.W. Bush & James Baker, III

President George H. W. Bush and former U.S. Secretary of State James A. Baker have teamed together in service to their country and on the tennis court for many decades. Long-time doubles partners, Bush and Baker were inducted into the Texas Tennis Hall of Fame as a team. In the 1960s, the two became tennis partners at the Houston Country Club winning the Club Doubles Championships in 1967 and 1968. Together, they became members of the Reagan White House. Bush was Reagan's Vice President while Baker was White House Chief of Staff and Secretary of the Treasury. When Bush won the presidency, Baker served as his Secretary of State. As teammates in public office, Bush and Baker steadily guided the country through a period of profound international change and helped bring about a peaceful conclusion to the Cold War.

President Bush first gained appreciation for tennis during the summers spent with his family in Maine and Connecticut as a youth. Tennis was a family endeavor. Although Bush played baseball for Yale, his interest in the game of tennis never waned. Bush has been involved with many tennis associations and events from the level of honorary member all the way to chairman, including USPTA, Tennis Across America and the Bluebonnet Bowl Invitational Tennis. Bush has fervently supported tennis in Texas and across the United States for decades.

Secretary Baker's first instructor, Eugene

Kamrath Gonzalez said, "When I first gave him lessons in 1937, I knew he was going to be a really fine player. He paid attention and put into practice the physical requirements of footwork and stroke production at every session. He had that internal fire, motivation, and natural athletic ability that is needed to excel." Baker was a top singles player during high school and later captain of his freshman tennis team at Princeton University. Baker won the singles championship at the Houston Country Club six out of seven years between 1958 and 1964.

being inducted into the Texas Tennis Hall of Fame for their service to the game. Both men encouraged youngsters to play tennis, vigorously supported charitable tennis tournaments and generously gave of their time to promote tennis for decades. Their ability on the court and their service to Texas tennis makes them exemplary ambassadors of the game.

Chris Bovett

Houston

Chris Bovett excelled in high school tennis as a top 10 junior in the 18 and under divisions in both England and Australia. Bovett compiled an impressive 93-27 singles record during college before graduating from the University of Houston in 1970. As a pro, Bovett competed in three USPTA Nationals and nine Grand Slams. He was ranked No. 1 in Men's 40s Singles in Texas, 1984-1985. In 1971, Bovett began coaching at the Houston Racquet Club. He has received numerous awards for excellence in coaching, including USPTA Coach of the Year and the Texas Tennis Association's Lloyd Session Educational Merit Award. Bovett's students embody the excellence and dedication he models. His students have competed in 37 USTA National Junior Championship Finals, winning 25. Over 120 of his students have played college tennis while 25 have gained world professional rankings.

Susan Shelby Torrance

Corpus Christi

Susan Shelby Torrance attended King High School in Corpus Christi where she was the UIL Texas State Singles Champion in 1968. She was also the Texas Sectional Champion in doubles in 1967 and singles champion in 1968. She went on to attend the University of Texas where she was the No. 1 UT women's varsity tennis player and finished third in the State Collegiate Tennis Championships. In 1976, she graduated with a Master of Science degree in Kinesiology from Lamar University. She then started playing professionally and was ranked No. 1 for the Women's Open Singles, USTA Texas section in 1978 and 1980. During the 1980s, she was the USPTA National Hard Court Singles Champion and was ranked No. 1 for USPTA. Susan competed on the WITA World Tour in 1973 and from 1980-87. She reached the top 100 and played at Wimbledon, the US Open, and the French Open qualifiers. She was the USTA 1985 Women's 35 and over National Clay Court Singles Champion. She is currently the Director of Tennis and Contract Manager of Al Kruse Municipal Tennis Center in Corpus Christi.

COMPETITIVE'S CORNER

By Steve Cobb

USTA TEXAS DIRECTOR OF COMPETITIVE TENNIS

Love of Competition Must Outweigh Love of Winning

There are many famous quotes about "Winning." The legendary Green Bay Packers football coach, Vince Lombardi is credited with:

"Winning isn't everything. It's the only thing," and "If winning isn't everything, why do they keep score?" among his other quotes.

Another quote, not attributed to Lombardi, is "It isn't whether you win or lose it's how you play the game." And then, a humorous response to that "Whoever said it's not whether you win or lose, probably lost!"

But Lombardi's one quote which is most accurate; "Winning is not everything, but wanting to win is."

That is the very essence of competition. We don't really control outcome. We control effort, intensity, focus, determination, decision-making, desire, and many other components. But the actual result is also very affected by our opponent's efforts, a bit of luck, officials, the weather, fate, and many other things out of our control. Tennis players all too often confuse winning, with playing to win.

Success in competition is most likely, especially in tennis, when the player understands that the love of competition must far outweigh the love of winning. The very act of testing oneself against the best, of doing battle with what may appear to be a stronger adversary, and putting oneself on the line to see how they measure up, is the ultimate joy. The winning part, which is often out of our control, is secondary. How do most highly competitive juniors respond to losing? Tears, frustration, anger, sorrow, melancholy, depression, bitterness, or any combination of all these. That's easy to understand. We all WANT to win. Learning to understand the benefits of fighting to win, regardless of the outcome, is the key.

We learn the MOST when we lose.

That is a valuable motivator that many players are missing. As a player, you will know when you are beginning to get a handle on this when one day you finish a match, play well and lose, yet you feel good about your effort. When that day comes, celebrate. You love COMPETING; regardless of the outcome. The ultimate paradox is that because you have gotten to this higher understanding, you will win more!

This brings me to the best quote, from Rudyard Kipling that happens to be written at Wimbledon's All England Tennis Club. It is painted over the door that leads from the locker room to Center Court, and is the last thing the player sees before going onto the battlefield. "If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster, and treat those two imposters just the same."

If you can compete with all you've got, win or lose ...

It should be every player and every coach's goal, to help the player understand the difference between winning, and playing to win. Then, they can truly be, a "winner."

VAN'S ADVANTAGE

By Van Barry
USTA TEXAS EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

PRESENTED BY  JOHN NEWCOMBE
TENNIS RANCH

Embrace Innovation

It was great having the opportunity to meet so many of our wonderful members at the Annual Meeting last month at the beautiful Horseshoe Bay Resort. Congratulations to each of our award winners for their generous service to the sport of tennis and the state of Texas. I always look forward to environments where so many like-minded and passionate people are in attendance.

The ideas and energy that can flow through the meetings are distinctive. The breadth of information and topics that were covered during the Annual Meeting are a testament to how significant our association can be in the growth of our communities, not only in terms of tennis programming but in the lives of its citizens.

I truly believe through tennis, we hold the key to unlocking so much talent within our communities in numerous ways. Whether it be a child who has never held a racquet and through a first experience falls in love with the sport (for a lifetime), perhaps someone who is returning to tennis as a means to regain the health and vitality they once enjoyed, or tennis as a building of character because of the self-discipline and overcoming of adversity it requires to reach higher levels of success.

For those of us who love this sport, we have all experienced the magic that is inherent in tennis. Every person has a spirit of adventure within them; it's part of the human nature. How can we re-stir that energy and that magic within ourselves, families, friends and those we seek to serve?

There are any number of answers to that question which would be appropriate, however, for now I'll stick with one; in Texas, we are going to embrace innovation. We are going to try new concepts, we are going to continue growing the countless core programs where we are experiencing great success, and we are going to tap into the vast creativity and strength that each of you individually and we as a group, can deliver.

Yes we are going to fail on occasion. If we can't embrace the possibility of setbacks then it will be difficult to achieve success in any meaningful measure. But we will learn, improve and move forward.

So, how will we begin this process of transformation? The short answer is quite simple, through a positive succession of days. More on that to come ...

As always, your questions, comments and observations are encouraged at vbarry@texas.usta.com

The Future Includes Your Name in These Pages

This month's magazine, "The Texas Tennis Yearbook Edition," is principally a celebration: a comprehensive year in review of the accomplishments of our Texas tennis family. Flip through the pages, and you will read about the endeavors of our members.

In this issue, you'll not only find profiles of our newest Texas Tennis Hall of Fame inductees, but also lists of player rankings, sectional champions, USTA Texas committees and volunteers, USTA Texas staff members and much more. Also, remember why you're reading this. We are all here to grow and nurture this incredible game we share. Tennis is a blast and an awesome game to play that encourages fitness, friendship and fun!

This magazine commemorates the thousands of performances on tennis courts around this great section each year. Each name is a difference-maker in Texas tennis, and many are legends in their cities and in Texas.

More than 53,000 USTA members call Texas home. Our section has programs in place for every age (kids to seniors) and ability level (beginner to advanced.) These programs create our 10-and-under players, our sectional champions, professionals and eventual Hall of Famers!

Details on all USTA Texas programs can be found on our website, www.texas.usta.com. Who knows? Using the information on the website might someday land your name on the pages of future Texas Tennis Yearbooks.
