

Recreational Coach Workshops

A One Day Workshop for Anyone
Interested in Teaching and Coaching
Players at the Recreational Level

UNITED STATES TENNIS ASSOCIATION

IT'S YOUR GAME™

Training for coaches and instructors

The USTA understands the challenges tennis organizations face when training instructors and coaches while at the same time trying to maximize court usage. That's why we've developed the Recreational Coach Workshop, a national training program for people teaching and coaching players at the recreational level. Best of all, they're available at no cost to your organization.

Taught by a specially trained, certified teaching professional, this active 6-hour session covers:

- Teaching large groups
- The games-based approach to coaching
- Running effective team practices
- Games and drills every coach should know

Who attends a Recreational Coach Workshop?

These workshops are an excellent primer for new coaches as well as a valuable refresher course for those with teaching experience but who seek more current methods and effective tools. Past attendees include:

- Parents seeking the basics in coaching and organizing team tennis
- Park and Recreation instructors, high school, and seasonal coaches
- Coaches teaching kids and adults who are new to the game
- Current players seeking part-time teaching jobs

Upon completion of the 1-day workshop, attendees will:

- Be eligible for the USPTA Developmental Coach Certification
- Be able to effectively run entry level groups and teams
- Receive access to the latest in transition ball technology and additional coaching resources

Endorsed by the United States Professional Tennis Association (USPTA), the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA), and the Professional Tennis Registry (PTR)

Top trainers. Top results.

Our faculty are all certified by the USPTA and/or PTR and have received special training from the USTA.

The USTA assigns trainers based on reasonable time and travel requirements. Once a trainer is assigned to a workshop, he or she will work with the host site director to ensure all appropriate arrangements are made for a successful workshop. Workshops must have a minimum of 20 participants.

Why host a workshop?

Providing high quality instructors and coaches will make your program more attractive to local consumers. And more quality programs mean more play opportunities for your players or members—which means more court time used.

Plus, as a host site you will receive even more benefits:

- Financial reimbursement based upon completed evaluations
- Certified trainer at no cost to the workshop host
- Customizable marketing materials to promote the workshop
- Youth and adult curriculum materials
- USTA Teaching Group Tennis and Games Approach to Coaching videos

It's easy to get started today.
