The wheel units are connected to the vehicle body via a common axle rod extending substantially horizontally and coupled to the vehicle body by means of a coupling. The wheel units each have a drive and driven wheel. The drive and driven wheel of a wheel unit are arranged diametrically opposite each other relative to the axle and the vehicle body. The wheels of a wheel unit are arranged at an angle of about 100.degree. relative to one another. In this case, the distance between the drive and driven wheels of a wheel unit is substantially larger than the distance between the wheels of a wheel unit relative to one another. In order to equip the motor vehicle with different driving characteristics as required depending on the intended use, the run-in plate of the axle of each wheel unit is respectively formed in two parts.// Copyright (c) 2015, Emir Pasic. In this report the fundus findings in a 39-year-old woman with a left macular leucoma are described. The patient was referred for evaluation of a sudden decrease of vision in her right eye. Best-corrected visual acuity was 20/20 in the left eye and 20/100 in the right eye. Anterior segment examination was unremarkable. Funduscopy of the right eye showed a macula-involving, yellow, demarcated, rounded lesion. Fundus autofluorescence was unremarkable except for areas of hypoautofluorescence corresponding to the area of atrophy. Fluorescein angiography demonstrated staining of the vessel wall in the occluded distal internal carotid artery distribution and choroidal ischemia. Optical coherence tomography of the macula showed a cystic macular hole and a retinal pigment epithelial detachment. Computed tomography angiography confirmed occlusion of the distal anterior and middle cerebral artery and demonstrated the macular lesion without any evidence of contrast material enhancement. There was no evidence of vasospasm to the right optic disc or retinal ischemia. The small inner nuclear layer in the area of the macular hole, the presence of neurosensory retinal ganglion cells, and the absence of vascular abnormality suggested an indirect mechanism for the development of the macular hole. We consider that our patient had a macular leucoma developing after chronic vascular insufficiency due to complete occlusion of the major cerebral arteries with their surrounding neurovascular supply.As expected, G.O.O.D.
