Players can now use new Player Impact Engine (PIE) – a box on the player’s player likeness that fills in with depth and intensity when the player performs a decisive action. It is triggered by pressing your Instinct button or a button on the D-pad. This makes it more realistic and, for example, if you score a goal, see the PIE on your player likeness fill in as you celebrate. If your opponent scores, the PIE on your player likeness would disappear. Also, you can play one player through a whole game and see his PIE fill in as he makes his mark. When a player scores a goal or makes a crucial tackle, the PIE is instantly triggered to show you how he was rewarded. The accuracy of Player Impact Actions – the reactions of the players – has been improved. For example, you can see the player making a key tackle accurately, how he prepared for the tackle and how he reacted after the play. PIE has been improved, with more key moments in a game being powered by the technology. When your opponent is dispossessed, PIE is triggered and you see a significant reaction on the player’s player likeness. On the pitch, coaches can analyse player actions with the new Player Actions Analyzer (PAA) in the Tactical Assembly Language (TAL) system. Using PAA, players and coaches can view a range of player actions, again based on data captured from a complete match. PAA shows a summary of what the player did (a Tackle, a Pass or a Cross), how they performed in that action (Attack/Dive/Dribble) and the effect of their individual actions. Additionally, a coach can view if the player is in a certain condition for his return play. If he has not rested for 3 minutes and 15 seconds, for example, he will not be able to make a forward pass, until he has rested. There are also coach actions to speed up your team’s training and analyse individual players when deciding on a tactic. The Tactical Assembly Language Tactical Analysis Teams now has four Positions, as well as Skill Sets, to help them train. These are the Defensive (1st), Offensive (2nd), Midfield (3rd) and Support (4th) Positions. Each position has a Skill Set that
