SUSTAINABILITY & ENVIRONMENTAL UPDATE - LONDON STONE IN 2022

We are committed to having a positive impact on the environment. Here's how we're doing that in 2022 and beyond.

CARBON MAPPING

We now have Carbon footprint data for around 50% of our core products, including Italian Porcelain and Indian River Stone.

We will work towards mapping the rest of our products in 2022. We are also determined to understand the impact that we have on the environment, so we will be mapping our entire UK operation's carbon footprint, so that we can drive this down and become carbon neutral.

ITALIAN PORCELAIN

A 50m² Italian Porcelain patio uses the equivalent carbon of two return flights from the UK to Continental Europe.

ENVIRONMENTAL IMPROVEMENTS

Damaged/defective products sold at discounted prices rather than disposed of.

London Stone operates according to the principles & values of lean, a core objective of which is waste elimination.

Waste timber is shredded onsite significantly reducing vehicle movements.

Leasing Electric Vehicles for staff & charging points added at sites.

Our fleet is fuel-efficient with Euro 6 emissions standard engines.

Electric Forklift Trucks across all sites.

LONDON STONE'S ETHICAL APPROACH TO OUR SUPPLY CHAINS

We care passionately about every person involved in our supply chains, and believe in improving the lives of those less fortunate than ourselves in developing countries.

Importing stone from developing countries around the world, such as India, London Stone are committed to sourcing our products in an ethical manner with due regard for the welfare of every person involved in the supply chain, both directly and indirectly.

We source our products in line with the Ethical Trading Initiative Base Code, a recognised international standard in global supply chains.

NO CHILD LEFT BEHIND

Since 2015, London Stone has supported No Child Left Behind (NCLB), a project to create Child Labour Free Zones in Budhpura, a major cobble-making area in Rajasthan. This sector is notorious for child labour but, through working with families and employers, NCLB has seen hundreds of children enrolled into formal education. Integral to the work is helping workers access employment rights and benefits.

The COVID-19 pandemic has understandably been a major setback, especially with schools closing. But it has also created opportunities; NCLB is helping increasing numbers of workers to register for benefits and has established three new learning centres. Read more at www.nochildleftbehind.co.uk

For more information about our ethical approach, please visit www.londonstone.co.uk/ethics

LONDON STONE'S CHARITY PARTNERS

Carrying out noble work in the horticulture industry, as well as further afield, London Stone's chosen charities really make a difference.

GREENFINGERS

Greenfingers is a national charity dedicated to supporting children and their families who spend time in hospices around the UK. The charity creates beautiful outdoor spaces for children to enjoy, whether through play and fun, or therapeutic rest.

London Stone have been supporting Greenfingers since 2015. For every member that signs-up to our free-to-join Landscape Specialist Scheme, London Stone donates £5 direct to Greenfingers. London Stone has also taken part in a 'Santa Fun Run' to help raise funds for Greenfingers, who undertake noble, and at times extremely challenging work.

Kate Gould Gardens designed-and-built a showstopping garden on Main Avenue at the 2019 RHS Chelsea Flower Show for the charity.

The Greenfingers Charity Garden (see opposite page) showcased a host of materials that were donated by London Stone, including Porcelain, DesignClad and DesignBoard composite decking.

The garden won a Silver Gilt, and helped to promote the wonderful work of the charity.

www.greenfingerscharity.org.uk

PERENNIAL

Perennial is the UK's only charity dedicated to helping landscapers, garden designers and anyone in horticulture throughout their working life and retirement. They can help with any problem from major life-changing events to struggles with day-to-day living costs. Their help is confidential, and completely free.

London Stone recently upgraded our support to become a Diamond Partner, which means we pledge at least £5,000 per annum to the charity. We fundraise for Perennial via our Landscape Specialist Scheme, donating £5 each time a Landscape Specialist joins the free-of-charge scheme. London Stone were proud to sponsor the charity's annual Party For Perennial fundraiser in 2017 & '18, and raised money for the charity via our Development Days in 2018.

The charity celebrated its 180th anniversary by designing and building The Perennial Lifeline Garden at the 2019 RHS Chelsea Flower Show. London Stone were proud to pledge hard landscaping materials and bespoke masonry services to the garden, which won an impressive Silver Gilt medal.

“ Beige Sandstone was selected to maximise the light, creating the impression of a Mediterranean sun drenched terrace. The beautifully bullnosed steps also help to emphasis the curves of the built in bench which wraps around the garden.”

SAWN LIMESTONE

COLLECTION

Elegant – Durable – Stunning

Small shells and fossils embedded in these sedimentary stones give them a unique place in the hearts of designers, landscapers, and home-owners alike. Popular in contemporary gardens, the soft base colours also suit more traditional or rural styles. Gentle natural veining helps to make these high quality, hard-wearing stones so striking.

“Jura Beige Limestone is a wonderful, warm, creamy limestone that sits well with modern and traditional architecture. The embedded fossils provide texture and a timeless quality, while the colour looks gorgeous with timbers such as cedar or oak.”

TUMBLLED SANDSTONE

COLLECTION

Understated – Gentle – Rustic

Tumbled Paving, available in ethically-sourced Indian Sandstone, brings a touch of warmth and age that particularly suits older and traditional settings. The finish is created by passing newly quarried stone through vibrating machinery, which smooths edges, rounds-off corners and softens the riven profile, creating a relaxed feel.

PLANK PAVING

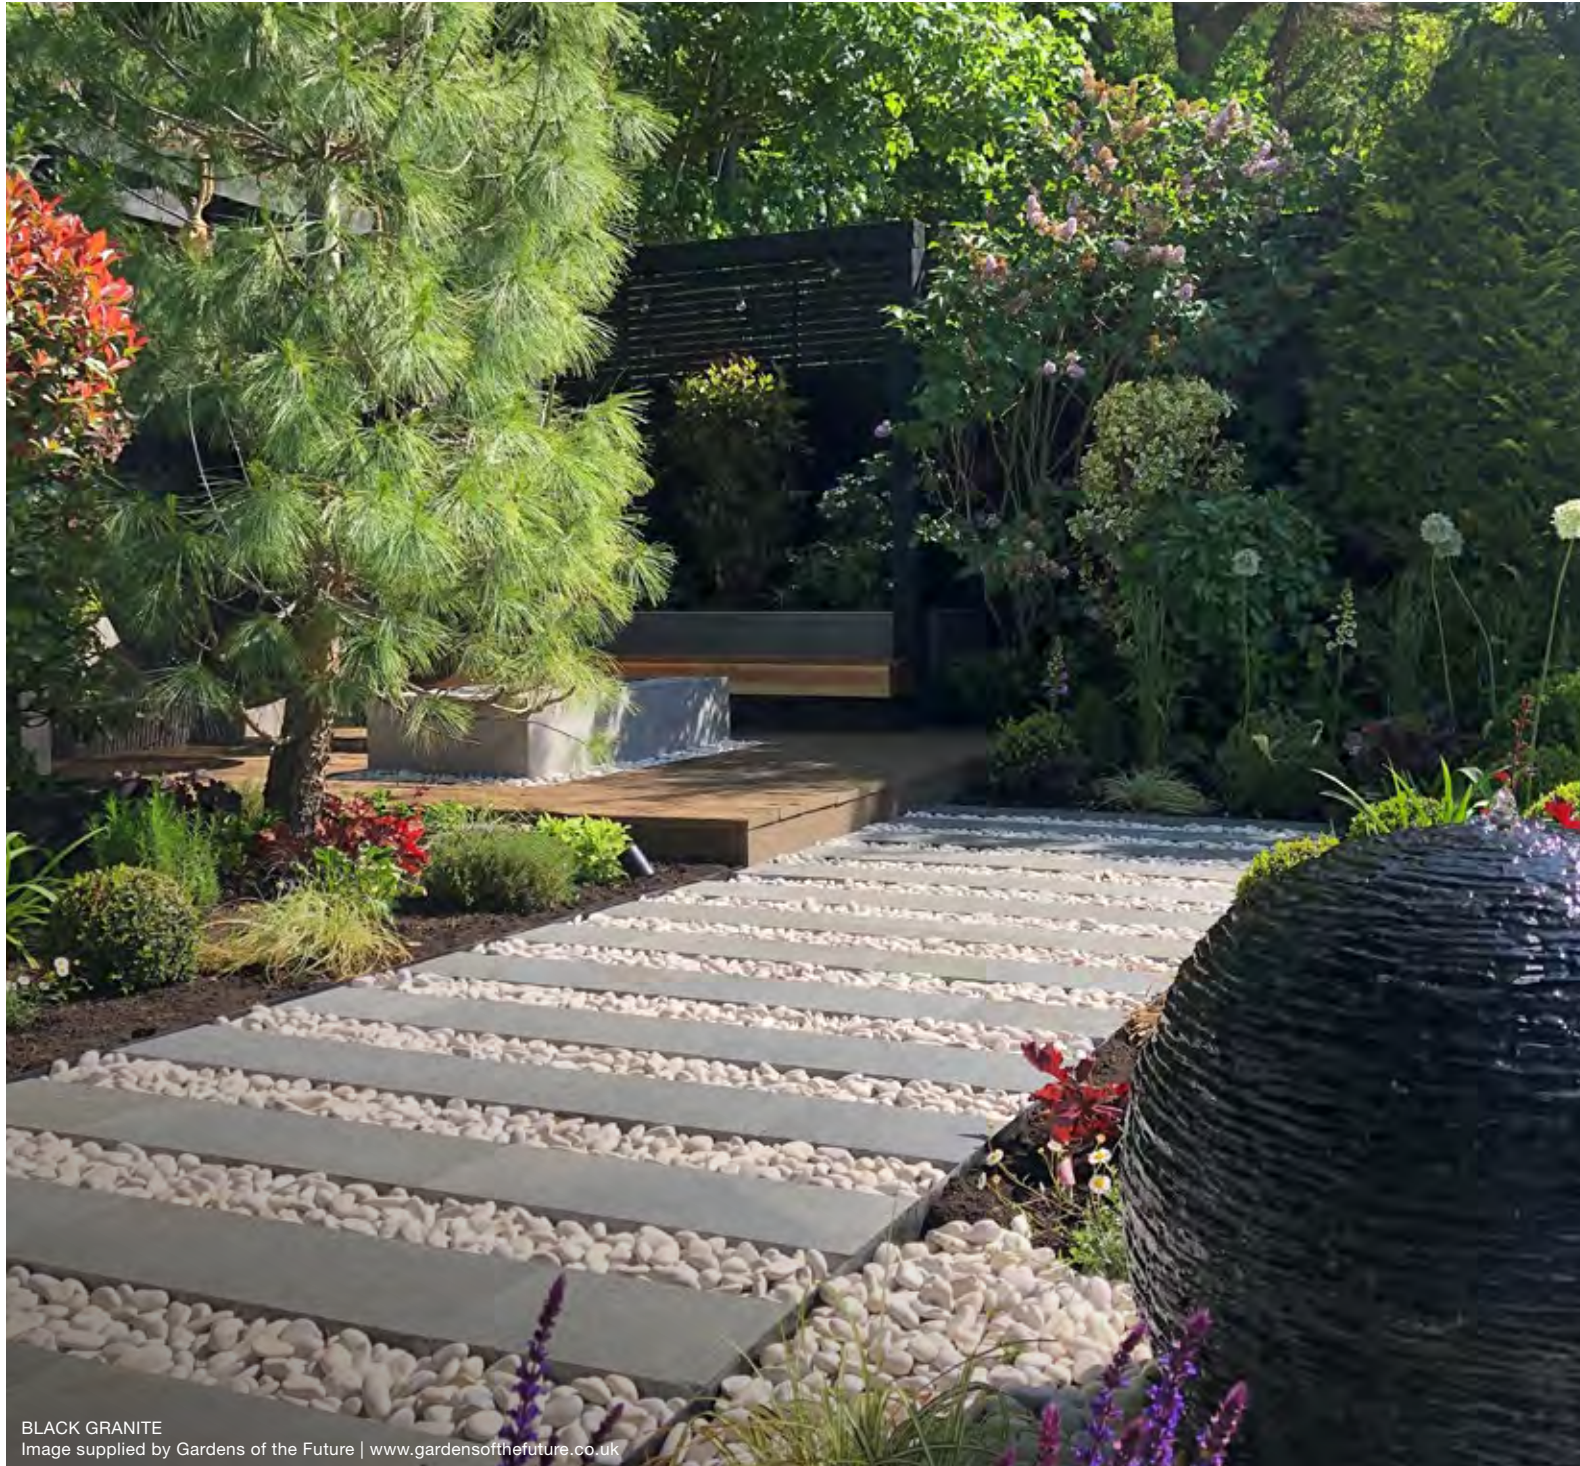

COLLECTION

Modern – Sleek – Linear

Add an ultra-contemporary look to your design. If laid lengthways along a path, Plank Paving creates the illusion of depth. Used across a narrow area, this paving can add a sense of width. Installed diagonally, movement is introduced; particularly suitable for paths, where leaving the plank ends unmatched at the edge creates a dynamic outline.

When Porcelain was first introduced onto the market, one of the drawbacks was that no supplier was able to make it look as good in step-tread form as natural stone. London Stone lead the way when it came to creating the industry's first 40mm thick porcelain step, and we've never looked back!

London Stone's range of porcelain steps is unique. Not only do we have one of the largest selections of porcelain on the market, in ranges to suit different budgets, but all our porcelain paving is available in complementary step treads.

Bespoke edge profiles add a stunning finishing-touch to your natural stone or porcelain. Applied to step treads, coping stones, pool surrounds or pier caps, London Stone offer edge profiles to suit all design styles.

HALF BULLNOSE

By displaying a greater depth of stone than on a more traditional full bullnose, a chunkier look is created. Perfect for step treads, copings and pool surrounds.

EDWARDIAN

Featuring an intricate curved detail, the Edwardian edge profile adds a grand finishing touch when used in traditional settings, perfectly complementing an appropriate period property.

CHAMFER

Where a simple, yet stylish profile is required, a chamfer can strengthen the edge or corner of materials, whilst minimising potential chipping.

VICTORIAN

Blending seamlessly with existing period character, this profile is most commonly used on pier caps, copings and window sills for an intricate, yet elegant finish.

P BULLNOSE

Looking like a letter 'P' when viewed in profile, the lower part of the edge is completely flat but the top part is rounded-off, just like our regular bullnose edge profile.

REGENCY

The perfect profile for compromise between period elegance and modern simplicity. The profile contributes a sturdy character to pier caps, coping stones and window sills.

DRIP GROOVE

Applied to the underside of steps, copings and pier caps, drip grooves catch rainwater letting it drop directly downwards, instead of leaving unsightly marks and stains on risers or capped walls.

BULLNOSE

Particularly well-suited to traditional designs, the ever-popular bullnose profile brings shadow and contour to steps, copings and pool surrounds, while remaining simple and elegant.

PENCIL ROUND

For a modern, understated look, our stonemasons round-off the top edge of your stone, creating a small radius about the width of a pencil, for a sleek, smooth finish.

ANTI SLIP EDGE

Sitting slightly proud of the stone's surface, a stainless steel bar is inserted into a machine-cut groove, which provides additional grip to step treads.
