

What is TeamPages?

TeamPages.com is a website built for your intramural sports teams to assist you with your team scheduling, and communication.

How Do I Get Started, Easy!

- You will get an email from your team manager inviting you to TeamPages
- By clicking on the link you will be able to easily create your own account, and you will be instantly added to the team
- Check out the tutorial section located in the left navigation bar to build your profile, so that your friends will recognize you
- Go to your team page to find your teammates, write announcements, and check past game results

What TeamPages Can Do For You

- Increase communication among you and your teammates
- Expand your network of friends who love playing sports
- Decrease stress level, because TeamPages tracks attendance
- Always be able to find updated scores, and schedules

FAQ

Who is Nik?

- Nik is our community relations manager, and he is on the site to answer all of your questions

What If I Have Questions?

- It is always easy to get help, if you have any questions send an email to support@teampages.com.

“

“Before TeamPages was around, there was hardly any organized way for all teams in a particular sport to communicate effectively. TeamPages brings along a great module where teams for a particular league can be setup and is geared specifically for sports rather than for entertainment. I love the fact that one can schedule games and the service provides reminders, shows team roster and maintains a database of past and future games.” ”

Abhinav Rai

Outdoor Soccer

“Have Fun With It!”

Contact our team if you have any questions
support@teampages.com