Our BIBLE STUDY MADE EASY 2026 campaign is only 7 weeks away. I deeply appreciate the number (84 as of now) who have committed to trying this unique way of covering the entire Bible in just 1-year. THANK YOU!

If you missed the presentation in October, BIBLE STUDY MADE EASY will divide the Bible into 365 daily chronological lessons. Each daily lesson will contain a summary of that day's chronological text plus 5 main points to remember from the text.

Originally the daily lessons were going to be presented as an online class but that presented a problem. Not all our 70 West family members have WIFI, and not all have smart phones. I don't want to leave ANYONE OUT so BIBLE STUDY MADE EASY will be presented as our Sunday morning Bible class. That way EVERYONE can be involved.

Each Sunday morning, beginning on December 28, I will present the coming week's daily lessons during the 9 AM auditorium class, using the study guides that will be available on the podium near the side exit doors.

The study guides will have each day's summary already printed. You will only have to write in the 5 main points as I share them off the PowerPoint screen (anything you write down is more likely to be remembered, so that's a plus).

You may place the weekly outlines in a notebook that will be distributed on December 14 and 21. By the end of 2026 your notebook will be full of daily summaries and up to 1,825 main points of the Bible.

What happens to the current study of John (the Up Close with Jesus Study Series)? At this moment I do not know.

We have several preachers & students overseas that have been using the class on John as their Sunday morning class. I'm trying to figure out a way to get this John class to them now as BIBLE STUDY MADE EASY replaces John on Sunday mornings beginning on December 28.

Now, as I close out all my online Bible classes, it is our hope, it is our wish, it is our prayer that we all live for Jesus 24/7...may God bless YOU!

Keeping Bible verses in Bible Context (Part 1)

Sadly, there are many people throughout the religious world, and some who are not so religious, that continually take verses out of context. A recent discussion on Facebook pointed out this glaring fact. If we are to keep the words of God in their context, we must answer a few simple questions. First, to whom was this written? Second, what was it written about? Third, why was it written? Once these questions are answered, then one must be sure to read the entire context, sometimes meaning that one must read the preceding and following verses, maybe even the entire chapter, or even the entire book. If the context suggests prophecy, then we must also look to see where that prophecy was fulfilled. Then and only then will we be able to keep the Bible in context in its entirety.

Let's take a few moments and see the context of some verses that were grossly misused over the course of a Facebook discussion. First, it was said that the Bible "endorses punishing children for their parents sins;" the verse used was Numbers 14:33-34 which states, "And your children shall wander in the wilderness forty years, and bear your whoredoms, until your carcasses be wasted in the wilderness. After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquities, even forty years, and ye shall know my breach of promise." Let's now determine the context in which this statement was actually made, rather than being drawn out to just prove one's point. To whom was this written? The Israelites. What was this written about? The Israelites had just refused to go into the land of Canaan even though God had promised them the land. Why was it written? It was written to pronounce the punishment of the children of Israel for not believing that God would keep His promise. What was God's purpose of doing this? Why should the children have to bear the "whoredoms" which the parents committed? Let's notice some previous verses. Notice Numbers 14:29-30: "Your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness; and all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me, Doubtless ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I sware to make you dwell therein, save Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the son of Nun." Notice the problem here? None of the children of Israel were going to be allowed into the land of Canaan that were of the age of accountability (which, under the Old Law meant 20 years old). The problem for those now that were under the age of 20 is that they were not old enough to assume the responsibility of entering the promised land and doing what needed to be done. Not only that, but think of the sorrow that parents that had refused to believe God would now feel since their children must also bear consequences of their (the parents') sins? Those consequences were for the parents, not the children. Additionally, the wandering served as a teaching tool to the children because they were taught to believe in the promises of God. Also notice Ezekiel 18:19-20: "Yet say ye, Why? doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live. The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him." The Bible clearly teaches that the person that sins will be responsible for his own sins, not the sins of his parents neither the parents for the sins of the child. This principle is taught in both the Old and New Testaments. And above all, were not these children ultimately rewarded with the land of Canaan?
