

Grades K-3

Ultimate Bug-opedia
by National Geographic Kids
Comprehensive encyclopedia on bugs and their sometimes unusual habits.

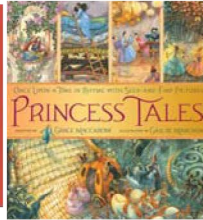

Fortunately, the Milk
by Neil Gaiman
A trip to the grocery store for a pint of milk inspires a did-it-or-didn't-it-happen story that will amaze readers of all ages.

Ballad
by Blexbolex
Blexbolex, the illustrator of the New York Times "Best Illustrated Book" of 2012, creates a simple narrative that builds in complexity with each genius adjustment to the illustrations.

Battle Bunny
by Jon Scieszka and Mac Barnett
When Alex receives a sappy book for his birthday he takes a No. 2 pencil and adjusts the book to his liking. The result is the wildly funny and unique Battle Bunny.

Make and Takes for Kids
by Marie LeBaron
Month-by-month crafting book with seasonal projects for those who love making, baking, and playing.

Princess Tales: Once Upon a Time In Rhyme
by Grace Maccarone
A rhyming seek-and-find book of traditional princess stories. Perfect for princess enthusiasts.

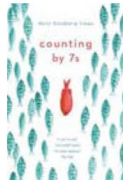

Grades 3-6

Maps
by Aleksandra Mizielinska & Daniel Mizielinski
This unique take on the traditional atlas features intricate illustrations. Great for travel buffs and curious kids.

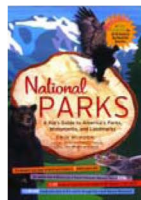

Flora & Ulysses
by Kate DiCamillo
Ulysses, the super-hero squirrel, and Flora, the comic book lover, embark on adventures. By Newbery Winning author Kate DiCamillo.

Counting by 7s
by Holly Goldberg Sloan
Outsider Willow Chance learns to cope with major life changes in this beautifully moving coming-of-age story.

Architectural Lego Sets
Lego lovers unite! Build famous landmarks with everyone's favorite blocks: Legos.

National Parks: A Kid's Guide
by Erin McHugh
A state guide to the varied parks, reserves, and nature reservations in the U.S. Includes a bonus quarter collector!

The Blank Book: Comic Book Panelbook
A book composed solely of blank comic panels invites young artists to doodle away.

Don't forget about these recent additions!

