RAISING THE BAR FOR SUCCESSFUL LANGUAGE TEACHING AND LEARNING

Laureate Languages provides a flexible framework for institutions to teach languages effectively. The program offers Laureate institutions high-quality content, assessment tools, select teacher training, and regular consultancy. A proven example is the Laureate English Program, designed in close partnership with three English language teaching leaders: Cambridge University Press, Cambridge English Language Assessment, and Bell.

In addition, Laureate Languages offers a platform of proprietary student and faculty online courses to complement our products and services.

Laureate Languages integrates language assessment at all stages, from curriculum planning to providing students with recognized international qualifications to enhance their resumes.

“I think in terms of the whole LNO suite of products, the Laureate English Program is probably the one that is the most suited to the idea of a Big Network.”

Pierre Bourgoin
Director, English Program
Stamford International University, Thailand

“To be in a program, with so many other university language programs, being in contact with directors; learning how it works all around the world. The modules, training opportunities, the whole package is really beneficial.”

Didem Muşçaloğlu
