

Ecclesiastes 3: 1-8

*To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven:
A time to be born and a time to die; a time to plant and a time to pluck, that which is planted;
A time to kill and a time to heal;
a time to break down
and a time to build up; A time to weep and a time to laugh;
a time to mourn and a time to dance;
A time to cast away stones;
and a time to gather stones together;
A time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing;
A time to get and a time to lose; A time to keep and a time to cast away;
A time to rend and a time to sew; A time to keep silence and a time to speak; A time to love and a time to hate; A time of war and a time of peace.*

"A poem dedicated to Cousin Antwon"

Cousin Antwon, this is cousin Ant, I love you cousin.
 The last time I was blessed to tell you, "I love you" was three weeks ago.
 Although it's been 31 years since I saw you, it felt good to say that to you, out of the blue.
 God has his way of allowing things to take place, which gives me strength to continue this race.
 Although I'm not there to see you away, my spirit is with you from this side of the gate.
 Where you're going, you're in good hands.
 When you get there with your feet in the sand, just call for my mom, she'll grab your hand.
 Uncle Butch, Grandma Mason and even Auntie Gwen, they'll all be there to welcome you in. All is ok, a new life begins.
 We will be strong because that's what you'd want.
 I love you cousin Twon, as I gather my thoughts, I can't help but think as the days turn to weeks and weeks turn to years, we are all put here to enjoy our walk.
 I'll always remember the last time we talked.
 Thank you, Lord Jesus, we won't be alarmed,
 We know Antwon is safe in your arms.
 Love, Cousin Anthony Ross

Acknowledgment of Condolences

The family would like to thank everyone from the bottom of our hearts, for all of the flowers, candlelight tributes, balloon releases and donations. The LOVE that's been pouring out is and has truly been a blessing. Our prayer is that God will continue to Bless each and everyone of you for your thoughtfulness and kindness. Again, we Thank you!
