

To our valued Hondo community and surrounding area:

Given the reality of the COVID-19 pandemic, it is important to know that we at Hondo Funeral Home are taking precautions to limit exposure to the coronavirus. We are still operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week on an at-need basis, making certain that those entrusted to our care and the families we serve are receiving uninterrupted service and attention, regardless of the cause of death. Serving our communities with loss is our privilege and honor. Hondo Funeral Home monitor COVID-19 thru official guidance provided by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and the World Health Organization (WHO) and local government.

As health officials have indicated, one way to limit the spread of the COVID-19 virus is through limiting public gatherings. Social distancing is the best way to limit the spread of the COVID-19. If you are feeling sick or have any symptoms of COVID-19 please refrain from going out into the public. Staying home speeds your recovery and prevents spreading illness, as well as protects those in high-risk groups. If you are experiencing a cough, fever, or shortness of breath, we encourage you to not attend funeral services.

Our sympathies go out to anyone who has the additional burden of grief and loss during this time, and we are here to guide each family with their needs on an individual basis. Furthermore, we encourage bereaved families to work with us to create meaningful services that fall within the CDC's; emergency order of limiting large public gatherings. We can offer options to let the bereaved know you support or care for them during this difficult time such as expressing your condolences via our website www.hondofuneralhome.com. We are your neighbors and friends who live and work in your communities and we take the impact of this pandemic seriously. Above all, we are committed to the families we serve. We remain focused on maintaining high standards and ethical practices as we serve the deceased and bereaved with the health and well-being of our communities in mind as we move forward together in the coming weeks and months.

Sincerely,

The Staff of Hondo Funeral Home
