Andrea Lamarra Delmark House

Andrea was born on December 18, 1990 to Derek L. House and Sandra A. House she was the only child of that union.

She graduated from the Philadelphia school system in 2009 from Parkway West and was also enrolled for a short time at Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Andrea loved music and also her fur babies, Kody her cat and Chai her dog. She often talked to them like they were her children. One of her goals was to adopt a child. She was actively moving her life in a direction to make that goal come true. In harmony with that goal, Andrea aspired to becoming a first-time homeowner.

Even though she faced many hurdles in her life, she managed to keep her faith in Jehovah. On her last day, she was preparing to attend the Memorial of Jesus Christ's death. This was important to her and had been something she did her whole life. She was determined not to miss this annual observance. Andrea dedicated her life to Jehovah and was baptized as one of Jehovah's Witnesses in 2006 at 16 years old.

Being a foodie, Andrea loved to eat, especially french fries. She enjoyed preparing meals with her Grandmother, Toni R. House and didn't shy away from making soul food specialities like collard greens, pig feet and chitlins. She also experimented with different concoctions in the kitchen and was known for her macaroni and cheese. She had a smile and laughter that would brighten your day. Being generous, funny and kind did not prevent her from being a hard worker. Andrea really enjoyed her job at Transparent Health Marketplace. She handled her responsibilities with professionalism and sincerity.

Andrea will be missed by the many people whose lives she touched in one way or another. People could relate to her and her life experiences.

Andrea was predeceased by her loving mother, Sandra A. House. She is survived by her adoring father Derek L. House, and two brothers, Jay Smith and Bradley Smith who reside in London.

Two uncles; Peter L. House and Robert N. Evans Jr, two aunts; Violet House and Nina Evans. Her cousins; Ilias Goolamallee, Sean P. House, Charlese L. House & Robert N. Evans III as well as a host of other relatives and loved ones.
