Afterglow

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one.
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways,
Of happy times and laughing times and bright and sunny days. I'd like the tears of those who grieve, to dry before the sun of happy memories that I leave when life is done.

Loving Memories

A bond that could never be broken. Ashley aka Lil Yvette is what some called you. Nikki I watched you laugh as you grew, wiped your tears while I prayed for you. Kiss your face then disciplined you. Taught you to pray along the way a beautiful girl day by day. These lessons you've learned served you well, you see to practice God's love one can never fail. Nikki I thank god for our time and I'm so proud you were mine. You're forever in my heart.

Mommy

Nikki,

I'm lost for words and thoughts, I keep asking myself how did we get here? I just wish this was a bad dream and I could just wake up and call you saying Nikki I had the worst dream and I had to pray about it. Because I don't know what to do and for the first time in my life I really don't know my thoughts are just gone. You're my homie, my nigga, my sister, my best friend, and I don't know where to go from here. You say I'm your strength when you can't be strong but you're mine when I couldn't deal mentally or emotionally. When I needed you there you would listen and just be that person. Who understood my frustration or when the kids are just doing the most who would talk to them? I'm trying so hard but I miss you, I feel so emptied, hurt, and I just don't know. I'm so scared of the uncertainty of just how much everything is going to change. All I can just think about the plans we had and now I'm here by myself Nikki and it's been a struggle I have nobody to cry too. Waterfalls are just falling from my eyes and my heart is just broken. Who will I talk to all day? Who going to FaceTime me in the morning singing good morning? Who going to send me pictures of people finishing school saying this going to be you cousin or when I'm overwhelmed with just life and say cousin just focus on school you know I got you and the boys. I keep seeing your last text when I close my eyes and I wish I would've just said I love you too cousin I know we both have strong personalities and we have our times but what's understood don't need to be explain. I got savannah that's goes without saying. I do know this isn't goodbye but I will see you later Nikki.

"I Love You Too Nikki" - Lishawn

Ashley's Life Journey

Nicole Stallworth was born on November 2nd, 1990 at Cooper University Hospital in Camden, NJ to Dianna Kennedy and Sheldon Perry. Her spirit was ascended to heaven on July 1, 2021.

Ashley affectionally known as Nikki was a caring and loving person. She was all about family and helping others whenever they were in need.

Nikki was a fireball, full of life and passion. She enjoyed spending time with her family and creating memories. She also enjoyed partying of course. Nikki became a mother on March 30, 2013 and gave birth to her daughter Savannah which changed her whole perspective on life.

Nikki was educated in the Philadelphia School District where she received her high school diploma in January of 2009. Nikki started a career in the medical field becoming a CNA and Medical Assistant in 2011 which she pursued for 6 years. Nikki later relocated to North Carolina where she received her CDL license by Carolina Truck Driving School in 2017 and became a cross country truck driver.

She leaves to cherish her loving memories. Her parents Dianna Kennedy (William) and Sheldon Perry, her daughter Savanna, her siblings Shayla, Kyla (Aaron), her nephew Avery, her righthand/cousin Lishawn, her maternal grandmother Joanna Stallworth-Holmes, great maternal grandmother Jessie Holmes. A host of aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Nikki was proceeded in death by her brothers Cameron and Daron, sister Layla, maternal grandfather John Holmes, paternal grandfather William Perry and maternal grandmother Lethel Perry.

Loving Memories

Kisses To Heaven

Born of love, Strength and Grace
Eyes like diamonds upon your face
The heart of a lion, fierce and full
Giving selflessly was her number one rule

Where she dwelled loved followed
Faithful and true
It's an understatement to say
That we will miss you

So we send kisses to heaven
As a symbol of our love
Showered upon you, Ashley
From our LORD above

Kisses to heaven
Warm loving and true
As our way of saying
Beloved Ashley,
we will forever miss you.

Loving Tributes

I'm not writing this to make my granddaughter seem like she was a saint. I'm going to tell you about the Ashley I knew. Ashley and all my grandchildren are a blessing. Ashley was the type of person that gave from her heart. She always put someone else needs in front of her own. She could be down to her last penny but she will give it to you. She was not a selfish person, but a loving and caring person. It's so much I can say about my granddaughter. How she loved and trusted people or how she had a good heart and spirit. If we keep all of the memories we have of her stored in our hearts she will be missed but live on through us and never be forgotten.
-Grandmom Joanna

Your kindness, your laughter, your grace. You were such a young lady, I will miss you.
Love you always, Mr. Bill

Ash,
I have so many words I wish I could say to you. You were more than just a sister, my confidant, my bodyguard, my teacher, and most importantly my best friend. I remember the call, it punched me in the chest and took a piece of me I will never get back. Even though you were my older sister you were still so young. You were supposed to be my forever and now I feel so lost. I don't even know where to go from here, how to be strong for mom, Savannah and Li Li. My heart is heavy, I know I will miss every late-night call, every vent session, every inside joke. But for every moment I will miss will also be a precious memory. You will always still be such a precious part of life. "Love you Ash. Now and Forever." Kyla

Knowing that on this day will be the last time I see your pretty face is difficult to fathom. You have been my strength when I was weak. Many nights while I was hospitalized you would stay up and talk to me. Your voice gave me comfort, your spirit gave me hope and your faith gave me strength. I'm truly going to miss you cousin. I know this journey through life without your present will be tough but just know I will make you proud all of the accomplishments I promised to achieve I will do just that. Oh, and you know Savannah going to be good. We get her!!
Love you, Ty

Mommy I love you. You're the best mom.
I will miss you and you're forever in my heart chicken nuggets.
Love, Savanna
