Tribute of Love

*In all that we are
And all that we do
We all want love
That is the infinite truth.*

Dear Mama Bessie,

Many times, I sat and wondered what your story was. I wanted to know about your life as a little girl growing up in Oxford, Mississippi. I wanted to know how you felt when you first touched your feet on Chicago soil. I wanted to know when did you pray the most? When did you laugh the hardest! I wanted to know you. I don't know if you ever knew that all those little questions, I asked were my way of trying to find a little piece of me in you. As the matriarch of our family, we all branch out from the root of you. Each holding a stem that connects us back to the source. Whether it was: your quiet demeanor, your honesty, pride and integrity, your kindness that you showed to others, your cooking that brought people together, or if it was just your gratefulness in this blessing that we call life. Know that we share these things with you. And so, I no longer have to wonder what your story is. We all saw it live and in color. You lived a life that is reflected by the legacy you created. You did a great job and we all will forever be grateful because your story will forever live on.

Love, Dominiece

Tribute of Love

Grandma Until We Meet Again,

*Those special memories of you will always bring a smile
If only I could have you back for a little while
We could sit and talk again just like we used to do
You always meant so much to me
The fact that you are no longer here will always cause me pain
Your memory will always reside in my heart
Until we meet again, "GRANDMA!"*

Love Always & Forever, Vickie

A Fallen Limb

*A limb has fallen from our Family Tree
I keep hearing her voice say,
"Grieve not for me."
Remember the best time,
and the laughter we shared
The life I lived was good while I was there
Continue my Legacy,
I am counting on you
Keep smiling my family, the Sun will Shine through My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest
Continue traditions, no matter how big or small
Go on with life, don't worry at all
I will miss you dearly Don't you dare spend your days crying for me
We'll be together again in Eternity*
