OBITUARY

Kim Lori Banks, a mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, great aunt, and friend to everyone she met. Kim was born January 9, 1961 to the late Charlene and Abram Banks.

Kim was born and raised in Washington, D.C., and a graduate of Sharpe Health School. Kim loved bowling, cards (especially UNO), board games, old movies and listening to music. She really enjoyed Go-Go music and was known to break it down when one of her favorite songs was played. But most of all she loved her son, grandson, nieces, and nephews. At one point or another she was a babysitter or daycare provider to all of them, and this part of her life was full of joy and fond memories. She left a memorable impression on everyone she met with her infectious smile. Kim was easily one of the most lovable persons you would ever meet.

Kim had many challenges, hurdles, and obstacles that she had to overcome during her life. At a young age she decided to live her life to the fullest with no limitations or regrets. She was unique and brave and loved everyone unconditionally without expecting anything in return.

Kim leaves to mourn, her son Calvin Banks, grandson Kyree Banks, two brothers, Douglas and Jeffrey Banks, two sisters, Lisa Banks and Gina Brooks, sister-in-law Denise Banks and brother-in-law Ken Brooks, Sr. She is preceded in death by her brother Donald Banks. She leaves a host of nieces, nephews, great nieces and nephews, and other special friends.
