Miss Me But Let Me Go

*When I come to the end of the road
and the sun has set on me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room,
why cry for a soul set free.*

*Miss me a little--but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low,
Remember the love that we once shared,
miss me--but let me go.*

*For this is a journey that we all must take,
and each must go alone.*

*It's all a part of the Master's plan,
a step on the road to home.*

*When you are lonely and sick of heart,
go to the friends we know.*

*And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds,
miss me--but let me go.*

Obituary

Clyde Lee Brown was born on May 21, 1936 and awoke to eternal life on January 11, 2022, at the age of 85. Clyde was born in Holly Springs, Mississippi to mother, Jessie Echols and father Henry Brown.

The family relocated to Jackson, Tennessee during his childhood and Indianapolis, Indiana shortly after where Clyde attended Crispus Attucks High School. After leaving high school, Clyde decided to serve his country and enlist in the United States Army in his late teen years. Clyde's dedication and strong work ethic served him well throughout his military career, where he served selflessly until 1955. That same year, Clyde obtained a career with Chrysler that allowed him to provide for his family. He dedicated 43 years to Chrysler before retiring in 1998. On March 22, 1965, Clyde married his forever partner, Alma Brown. Together, they grew into a beautiful family of 6.

Clyde enjoyed life and made the most of his time with family and friends. His tough exterior was often seen through as he had the heart to brighten the lives of others and spread the word of God. Clyde was a man of strong faith. He devoted member of St. Luke Missionary Baptist Church and followed his calling to worship as a chorister in the St. Luke Men's Choir.

Clyde was preceded in death by his parents, his wife and son, James Gray. His memory will continue to be shared by his sons, Darren (Gail) Brown, and Anthony Brown; daughter, Angela Miller; brother, Junior Echols; sisters, Daisy (Sylvester) Martin, Ester Edwards, Doll Wright, Earlene Hubbard, Edna Miller and Jennie Hunter; 16 grandchildren and an abundance of great grandchildren; close friend Ada Steele and a plentitude of friends and loved ones.

Psalms 23

The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD forever.
