Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little-but not too long
And not with your head bowed low
Remember the love that we once shared
Miss me-but let me go

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan
A step on the road to home

When you are lonely and sick of heart
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss me but let me go.

Her Story

Bonita “Bonnie” Lee Burris (Drew) was born in Indianapolis, Indiana, on March 4, 1943, to her parents, Selvie William Burris, Sr., and Faye Elizabeth (Porter) Burris.

Bonnie attended Shortridge High School and graduated in 1963.

Bonnie later enrolled in the School of Practical Nursing in Indianapolis to become a Licensed Practical Nurse. She was an LPN at Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis for over thirty years until she retired.

Bonnie was a caring mother, daughter, sister, aunt, grandmother, and great-grandmother. Bonnie confessed a belief in Christ and is a former member of Berean Bible Church. She married James E. Drew on September 25, 1965. Bonnie and James shared 56 years of marriage and raised five children together. Bonnie enjoyed spending time with her immediate and extended family, and she loved to dance, travel, read, and complete jigsaw, crossword, and sudoku puzzles in her spare time.

Bonnie departed from this life on May 27, 2022, at 79 years of age. She will be missed by all of those who loved her. She was preceded in death by her father, Selvie Burris, Sr.; her mother, Faye E. Burris; her brothers, Edward H. Burris, Tyrone L. Burris, Sr.; and Duane L. Burris, Sr.; and her sister, Zoe L. Wafford.

She is survived by her husband, James E. Drew; her children, Karen R. Drew; James R. (Diane) Drew; David L. Drew, Sr.; Joseph E. Drew; and Kelly R. Drew; eleven grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; her sisters, Carolyn Norwood; and Vera Gilbert; brothers, Selvie Burris, II; Gregory L. Burris; Phillip L. Burris; and Myron Burris; ; and a host of nieces, nephews, great-nieces, great-nephews, and other relatives.

Petals of Her Life

*As beautiful a rose to see,
Was her life she lived so gracefully
She made things precious by her touch
Her selfless love lives on in each of us.
The petals of her life fell one by one,
Each a gift of her heart till there were none.
Yet her radiance blooms once again
In fields of glory with no end.*
