

The Twenty-Third Psalm

*The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures:
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul;
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness
For his name's sake.
Yea, though I walk through the valley
Of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil: for thou art with me;
Thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me
In the presence of mine enemies:
Thou anointest my head with oil;
My cup runneth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me
All the days of my life:
And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.*

Obituary

“For momentary, light affliction is producing for us an eternal weight an of glory far beyond all comparison, while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal.”

II Corinthians 4:17-18

My Aunt

My Aunt was the sweetest woman you’ll ever know.
For the whole world would tell you so.
Even on her darkest day it would shown.
She loved her family,
especially her grands and children too.
And she made sure that they always knew.
We all wish you could have stayed longer.
But God knew you with him would be stronger.
The way you laugh, smiled and joke.
God knew he needed you to be close.
I know you going to guide us all along the way.
And we knew you just couldn’t stay.
You wanted us all to be together for that last day.
So you fought so hard and pushed through.
You said you finally goodbyes and I love yous.
So please Auntie when you see our tears.
Whisper us a joke so we know you are near.
I’ll never forget how you were always there.
You were like my second mom.
And although now my body is NUMB
I can say you fought you battle
And God said Well DONE!
Just come and visit so we can know you are okay and guide us along the way.
Auntie, We Will Always Love You So Much.

Love, Ieyshia
