

Jesus Was Surely A Sailor

I was all alone on a ship of sin,
Sailing on the endless sea of despair.
Then Jesus came walking on the water,
Looking for my soul on the sea of despair.
I welcomed him aboard my miserable ship of sin.
He became the Captain of my ship and the master of my soul.
We sailed into the sea of forgetfulness,
He tossed my sins overboard, to sink and never rise no more.
We sailed on and into the harbor of happiness,
He dropped the anchor of love and welcomed all on board.
"Welcome aboard shipmates,
you do not have to sail alone no more."
"This is the lifeboat headed for the promised land,
Welcome aboard."
We walked the shores looking for lost souls.
Fisherman, the sick and the lame, for them all he had no shame.
He healed and saved them all, and welcomed
them all aboard his ship of love.
Then I said, "Lord, what about all the sailors
I sailed with that was lost in raging storms,
shipwrecks and battles at sea?"
He put his hand out to ease my worried mind and said all the dead
and those lost at sea would rise to meet
us in the air when he gave the command.
The supreme commander is ready to give the order he said,
To load the ship with those who are ready to sail on home.
I will gladly help keep watch for my skipper,
that nothing will hinder our journey home,
for I truly want to go to heaven.
Yes, the Lord loves sailors too.

By Aubrey J. Cargill

Jesus Was Surely A Sailor

I was all alone on a ship of sin,
Sailing on the endless sea of despair.
Then Jesus came walking on the water,
Looking for my soul on the sea of despair.
I welcomed him aboard my miserable ship of sin.
He became the Captain of my ship and the master of my soul.
We sailed into the sea of forgetfulness,
He tossed my sins overboard, to sink and never rise no more.
We sailed on and into the harbor of happiness,
He dropped the anchor of love and welcomed all on board.
"Welcome aboard shipmates,
you do not have to sail alone no more."
"This is the lifeboat headed for the promised land,
Welcome aboard."
We walked the shores looking for lost souls.
Fisherman, the sick and the lame, for them all he had no shame.
He healed and saved them all, and welcomed
them all aboard his ship of love.
Then I said, "Lord, what about all the sailors
I sailed with that was lost in raging storms,
shipwrecks and battles at sea?"
He put his hand out to ease my worried mind and said all the dead
and those lost at sea would rise to meet
us in the air when he gave the command.
The supreme commander is ready to give the order he said,
To load the ship with those who are ready to sail on home.
I will gladly help keep watch for my skipper,
that nothing will hinder our journey home,
for I truly want to go to heaven.
Yes, the Lord loves sailors too.

By Aubrey J. Cargill

In Loving Memory

Aubrey Jewell Cargill

Funeral Service

Collinsville First Assembly Of God

Collinsville, Oklahoma

Tuesday, December 22, 2020

1:00 PM

Officiating Minister

Pastor Jeff Bradley

Music

"Waiting By The River"

Vocalist ~ Joyce Johnson

"Just A Little Talk With Jesus"

"Christmas In Heaven"

Military Honors

United States Navy Honor Guard

Broken Arrow, Oklahoma

Interment

Ridgelawn Cemetery

Collinsville, Oklahoma

In Loving Memory

Aubrey Jewell Cargill

Funeral Service

Collinsville First Assembly Of God

Collinsville, Oklahoma

Tuesday, December 22, 2020

1:00 PM

Officiating Minister

Pastor Jeff Bradley

Music

"Waiting By The River"

Vocalist ~ Joyce Johnson

"Just A Little Talk With Jesus"

"Christmas In Heaven"

Military Honors

United States Navy Honor Guard

Broken Arrow, Oklahoma

Interment

Ridgelawn Cemetery

Collinsville, Oklahoma

Casket Bearers

Jason Buchfink Ernie Brazeal
David Roberts

Honorary Casket Bearer

Dale Buchfink

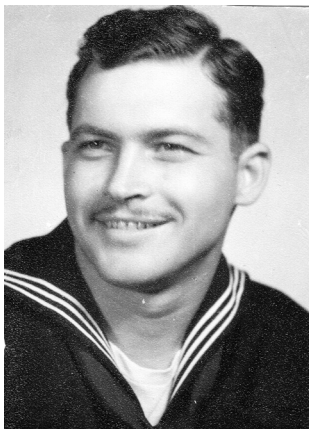

*Johnson Funeral Home
Sperry, Oklahoma
www.johnsonsperry.com*

Casket Bearers

Jason Buchfink Ernie Brazeal
David Roberts

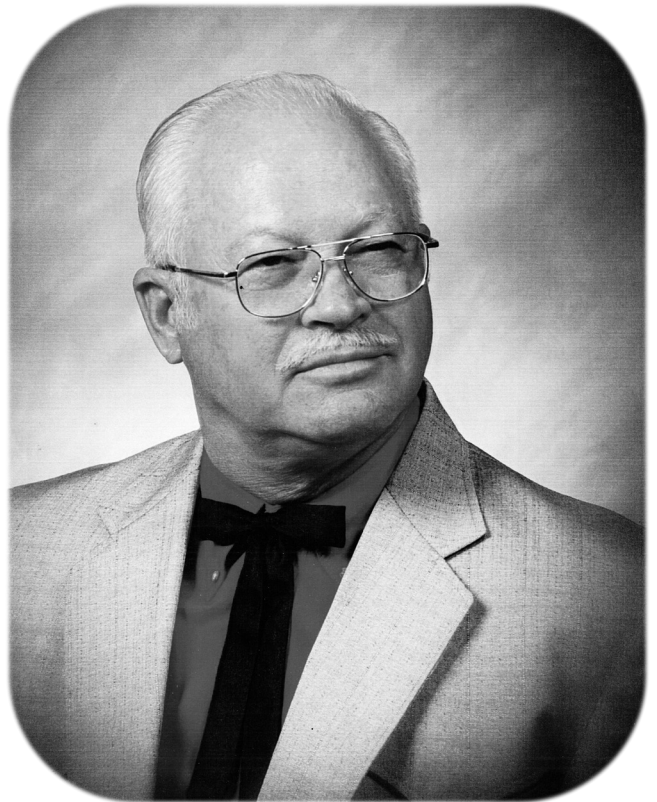

Honorary Casket Bearer

Dale Buchfink

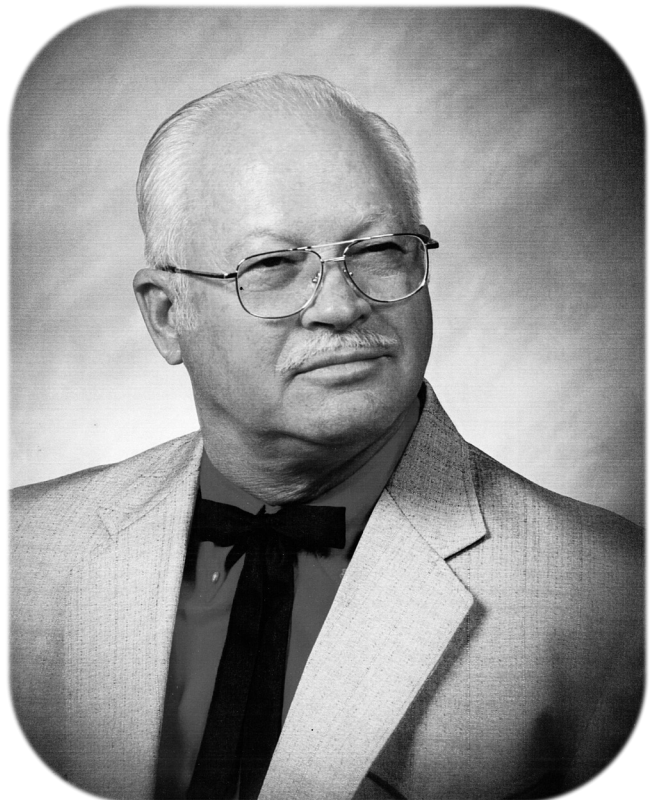

*Johnson Funeral Home
Sperry, Oklahoma
www.johnsonsperry.com*

Aubrey Jewell Cargill

April 15, 1934 ~ December 16, 2020

Aubrey Jewell Cargill

April 15, 1934 ~ December 16, 2020