Memorial Reflections

Jeffrey Hodari Butler was the son of the late John Wesley Butler and Hazel V. Butler. He was born in New London, Connecticut on April 23, 1962 and departed this life on June 26, 2020.

Jeffrey graduated from Tolland High School, Tolland, Connecticut. He attended Howard University in Washington, DC after which he enlisted in the United States Army where he served several years in Germany. While serving his country in Germany, he continued his education at the University of Maryland.

After his time in service, Jeffrey returned to Connecticut where he worked at various companies as well as working as a caregiver for a Healthcare Facility.

He was preceded in death by his father, John W. Butler. Two grandmothers, Annie Roach and Mary Lucille Hicks. Two grandfathers, Jerry Roach and Harold Lee Hicks.

He leaves to mourn his mother, Hazel V. Butler of Raleigh, NC; Three sisters, Kwanza R. Butler, Sana H. Butler, Sheria L. Butler all of New York and a host of cousins and other relatives and friends.

When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

When tomorrow starts without me
And I'm not here to see
If the sun should rise and find your eyes
All filled with tears for me

I wish you wouldn't cry
The Way you did today
While thinking of the many things
We did not get to say

I know how much you love me
As much as I love you
Each time that you think of me
I know you will miss me too

When tomorrow starts without me
Please try to understand
That an angel came and called my name
And took me by the hand

He said This Is Eternity
And All I promised you
Today for life on earth is done
But Here it starts a new

I promise no tomorrow
For today will always last
And Since each day's the exact same way
There is no longing for the past

So When Tomorrow starts without me
Do not think we're apart
For every time you think of me
Remember I'm right here in your heart
