POEM
WALK IN MY SHOES

When I am gone don't mourn for me, just be happy for me; for I have lived my life, but can you walk in my shoes. Think of the good times and also the bad; for I am not perfect and so I made people mad; but can you walk in my shoes.

I've gone to a higher place where there is not judgement and no pain; I'll be so happy and peaceful for this heaven, I won't even see rain; but can you walk in my shoes.

Can you hear music of peace from the sky? I bet you can't, but I can, because I can fly; but can you walk in my shoes.
