

Her Journey

Don't think of her as gone away
Her journey's just begun.
Life holds so many facets
This earth is only one.

Just think of her as resting from the sorrows and the tears
In a place of warmth and comfort
where there are no days and years.

Think how she must be wishing that we could know today
How nothing but our sadness can really pass away.

And think of her as living
In the hearts of those she touched... for nothing loved is ever lost –
And she was loved so much.

Sometimes it's hard to understand
Why some things have to be
But in His wisdom God has planned
Beyond our power to see.

So looking back in tenderness
Along the road we trod,
We cherish the years we've had with you
And leave the rest to God.

Obituary

When thinking of “Dot” those who truly knew her will remember her as a kind woman, a woman who loved family, a woman who never met a stranger and could talk to you for hours about life and family.

Dorothy Mae Jackson Davis, affectionately known to many as “Dot”, was born in Newberry County on January 1, 1940, to the late Sarah Burton. Dorothy was reared by the late Hexie and Mariah Jackson, Dorothy departed this life on Saturday, January 16, 2016, at Self Regional Hospital, Greenwood, South Carolina.

Dorothy was an active member of Little River Baptist Church where she faithfully served on the Senior Choir and the Missionary.

She was preceded in death by her husband, John Pressley Davis, Sr; a daughter, Molly Sarahester Davis.

Those who celebrate her life and cherish precious and loving memories include two daughters, Joanne Davis and Maggie L. Davis, both of the home; one son, John Pressley Davis, Jr. (Sandra) of Greenwood, South Carolina; one granddaughter, Michelle L. Davis of the home; one great-granddaughter, Aaliyah Griffin of the home; one aunt, Annie Harris of Rhode Island; special cousins, Mattie Simmons and Margaret Cook of Gray Court, South Carolina; two brothers-in-law; four sisters-in-law; and a host of cousins and friends who will dearly miss her.
