A Letter to My Dad

Life is not a crystal stair; in fact, it is a long, long road. Without a map or instructions on why and how you got there. Winding roads, ups and downs, right turns, wrong lefts that seemingly come out of nowhere. Now see, that is the first half of the learning experience. Definitely a trip I had to take, but the second half is where you come in.

Showing me how to fly instead of making this journey on foot you showed me how to rise above the obstacles of life and rise above it one day at a time. There are no rules in this game called life and since everyone plays to win, I can't begin to tell you how much it means for you to be my heaven-sent father, protector and really a true friend.

At first you were my teacher and trainer, showing me the ropes. This second half is for me to be somebody's hope. I pray Legend Love and Tru King will ultimately prove why this life experience has ultimately made you the G.O.A.T.

Love Stephanie

Obituary

Mr. Jerome Seibles was born in Winnsboro, SC on October 27, 1948 to the late Annie Mae Fee and he departed this earthly life on Friday, September 9, 2022 at MUSC Health Center in Charleston, SC.

Jerome graduated from McCrorey-Listen High School in the class of 1969. After high school, Jerome moved to Hartford, CT. While living in Connecticut, he met his future wife, Jacqueline, in Hartford in July, 1970 and they were married in February of 1971. Jerome and his wife lived in New York prior to moving back to Winnsboro, SC in 1995.

As a child, Jerome attended St. Luke Baptist Church in Winnsboro. While in New York, he was a member of Deeper Life Christian Fellowship Church in Richmond Hill, NY where he accepted Jesus as his personal Savior and began his Christian walk. In December 2001, Jerome was ordained as an elder at Kingdom Vision Church in Columbia, SC. At the time of his passing, he was a member of International Praise Church in Elgin, SC where Bishop Doyle Roberts is the pastor.

Jerome was employed at Richtex Brick in Columbia, SC for a number of years until he moved to Hartford, CT. He later moved to New York where he worked at Co-Op Supermarket in Jamaica, NY for 21 years. He was currently employed with the South Carolina Department of Transportation where he had been employed for 14 years.

Jerome loved his family and he loved taking children on vacation with him. He loved fishing, barbecuing with his nephew, Preston Seibles, enjoying a home-cooked meal, photography, bowling and watching football. He was a diehard Gamecock fan and he loved watching the men's and the women's sports.

Those left to cherish his memories are his wife of 51 years, Jacqueline Elise Seibles; one daughter, Stephanie Monique Seibles; two grandchildren, Legend Love Jackson and Tru King Jackson; goddaughter, Brooklyn Seibles; siblings, Willie Mae Seibles, Dorothy Seibles, Lois Seibles, Glory (Jerome) Willingham and Keither Fee; brother-in-law, Robert France; two sisters-in-law, Sherrie (Martin) Rabsatt and Jessie Brown; Spiritual sons and daughters; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, aunts and friends.

In addition to his mother, Jerome was preceded in death by his brother, Paul Fee, Sr.; one great-niece, Abiyah Fee and one great-nephew, Benaiah Lawson; aunts, Pearl P. Barber and Margaret Johnson; uncles, Sammie James, Leroy Pearson, Tom Pearson and Eddie Mack.
