Acknowledgements

We, the family of the late Daisy Starks, would like to thank each of you for your outpouring of love and acts of kindness extended to us in our time of bereavement. We pray a special blessing for each of you.

A Silent Tear

Just close your eyes and you will see
All the memories that you have of me
Just sit and relax and you will find
I'm really still there inside your mind
Don't cry for me now, I'm gone
For I am in the land of song
There is no pain, there is no fear
So dry away that silent tear
Don't think of me in the dark and cold
For here I am, no longer old
I'm in that place that's filled with love
Known to you all, as "up above"

Obituary

Mrs. Daisy Mae White Goodwin Starks was born on January 20, 1932 in Fairfield County to the late Eula Jean Bell and James White. She entered into eternal rest on Monday, October 17, 2022 at her residence and she was married to David Starks, her husband of over 50 years.

Daisy was a servant of God and she was a kind-hearted pillar in the community, respected and loved by all. After ninety years of dedicated service, she bids farewell to her beloved family, fellow worshippers, dear friends, and caring neighbors.

Daisy was a member of Bethlehem Baptist Church in Ridgeway, South Carolina for 40 years where she served as a member of the Jubilee Choir and she was a member of the Kitchen Committee. Daisy was also a member of the Order of Eastern Star, Chapter No. 145 of Ridgeway, South Carolina.

She was a graduate of Richland Northeast High School Adult Education Program where she received her diploma with the Class of 1983. She retired after thirty years as a career Physical Therapist Aide for Midlands Center Department of Disabilities and Special Needs.

She was renowned for her excellent cooking and baking skills. In addition, she was a phenomenal seamstress and used her time and talents always in helping others. She was a “business woman.” She ran her own restaurant and bakery from her private kitchen. From the oldest to the youngest, almost everyone has sat at Auntie Daisy’s Kitchen table and enjoyed her delicious dishes, cakes, and pies.
