Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little-but not too long
And not with your head bowed low
Remember the love that we once shared
Miss me-but let me go

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the Master's plan
A step on the road to home

When you are lonely and sick of heart
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds
Miss me but let me go.

OBITUARY

ALONZO ORSLEY

Alonzo Orsley was born on May 20, 1951 to the late Booker T. and Geneva Orsley. He was the oldest of 5 children born to this union. He entered his eternal rest on May 13, 2023. He was preceded in death by two brothers, John B. and Melvin Alexander. At an early age, he joined his father's home church, Carlton Grove Baptist Church, where he attended until his health declined.

Alonzo attended the Hart County Public School System. He worked in the granite industry and spent many years as a crater. While working as a crater, he met and married the love of his life, Sallye, and remained faithful until his passing. He recently retired from Matthew Granite Company where he served for 20 years.

“ For to me, to live is Christ and to die is gain. - Phil. 1:21 ”

He was known by his pleasant personality and was well liked by everyone. Alonzo met no strangers and made everyone feel comfortable. He always kept a smile on his face. On a sunny day, you could always find him cleaning cars (especially his family's), riding his ATV, or his motorcycle, or cruising up and down the four lanes in his Cutlass. Alonzo was also known for his famous phrases such as "Oh Lawd" and "Oh Shoot". Although he was a man of few words, his presence spoke volumes. To know him was to love him.

He leaves to cherish his memories, his loving and faithful wife of 49 years, Sallye. To this union, they were blessed with two daughters; Tawanda of Macon, GA and KaSheena (Floyd) of Augusta, GA. Two beautiful granddaughters; Samaria and Saniya Scott. He loved his grandchildren, he called one "Tweetie" and the other one "Boo Boop"; Two brothers; Booker T (Leslie); Don (Brenda); one sister Marjorie (Frankie). Eight sister in laws (Jeanette); Dianne (Terry); Ella (Leroy); Doris (Pastor Johnny); Renee (Darryl), Barbara (Pastor Stacy); Virginia (Randy); Pam (Stacey). Three brother in laws; Ben (Tammy), Terry (Deidra); Robert (Brenda). He had a host of nieces, nephews, other relatives, and friends.

Special thanks to his caregiver, Shaquilla Heard and "Team Alonzo", who gathered for 60 plus evenings in support of Alonzo.
