

What is Cancer

Cancer is a horrible sickness.
 Cancer affects various ages.
 Cancer made my Granny take her last breath on April 29, 2017.
 It has been a long journey, almost 7 years.
 I was very grateful to have this woman in my life for 30 years.
 She molded me into the woman I am today,
 she taught me how to be successful,
 and most importantly she taught me how to be a mother.
 Granny, I'll never forget you and no one will ever replace you.
 Rest up baby, no more suffering.
 I love you to infinity and beyond.

Tribute to My Beloved Wife and Family

To my family true you think this is a sad day for Charles, and our hearts are full and a little heavy. But I’m also happy because my beloved wife is rejoicing with God, her parents & mine. She told me don’t let me fall, I never did, I’m so thankful now she’ll never fall because our beloved Father is holding her in his loving arms. Family think about Charles often, but know I had someone some people never get in a lifetime. I had my soulmate, my best friend and the love of my life. So I say to you, thank God for the love, understanding and wisdom my dear Jean gave to everyone she came in contact with. Cherish every moment and thank God everyday because this is a new day, and we are covered by his amazing Grace. My dear wife rest and one day I’ll be with you, one day in eternity.

Your beloved Husband
Charles
