How Do I Mend A Broken Heart

How do I mend a broken heart,

My entire world has fallen apart.

How do I find hope, in a brand new day

When the one I love has gone away.

My mind over flows with memories of you

Of all that we've shared, all that we knew.

I long for your touch and your warm embrace

The look in your eyes, the smile on your face.

My dreams are filled with your soft gentle kiss.

I wake and cry for all that I miss.

How do I mend a broken heart,

When my one true love and I are apart.

My heart knows to love only you

It won't let go, what do I do.

Our moments together were precious and few

But I cherish them all more than you know.

I love you my Angel and always will.

I love you then and I love you still.
