From a Father's Heart

True love for a son.

Once he was here and now he is gone.

My soul hurts. My body aches.

The nightmare that no man wants to dream has come upon me.

It doesn't seem real in my mind.

I tried to make myself believe it's not real,

but my heart knows that it is.

My son is gone. What can I do?

What can I say? It's so much that I want to do.

Like hold him, comfort him, even lay down beside him.

But I know I have others to watch over.

To try to guide, guard and protect.

It's not easy to lose a son. My only son.

I have to put God first and ask Him to guide me.

I put it in His hands. A true love for a son.

John 3:16

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son. That whosoever would believe in Him would not perish but would have everlasting life."

Please accept life.

REFLECTIONS OF HIS LIFE

The sun rose on September 3, 1982 for Mr. Timothy D. Callaham and set on August 22, 2016. Timothy was the son of Timothy J. Callaham and the late Maryann Callaham.

He attended W.J. Keenan High School in Columbia, South Carolina and had been employed with Home Décor Liquidators in West Columbia, South Carolina for several years. Timothy was a loving, free-hearted person with a handsome smile. He lived honoring the wishes of his mother: caring for his younger sisters.

“Puggy,” as he was affectionately known, enjoyed having fun with family and friends. He always brought so much joy and happiness whenever he was present.

He leaves to cherish his loving memories: his daughters, Lateisha Wilson and Kamyah Callaham; his father, Timothy J. (Carla) Callaham; his sisters: Kimberly (Andre) Riley, Ashley, Jasmine and Jada Callaham; a stepsister, Dekara Thomas; grandparents: Charley and Rosalee Yon and Maryann Isaac; his nephews, Joseph Harris and Dre-von Riley; a niece, Allanah Riley; his aunts: Linda Foster, Sandra McCants, Patricia Sims, Gwendolyn Isaac, Deborah Isaac and Jeanette, Michelle and Debora Callaham; and a host of cousins and friends.
