Final Isn't Final At All

*When the last battle has been fought,
Don't become distraught;
For final isn't final at all, it's just a temporary call.
When the last road has been traveled, D
Don't become unraveled;
The time of my sojourning here on earth has passed;
I am free at last.
For final isn't final at all, it's just a temporary call.
When the final chapter is written,
Don't become overly grief smitten;
For final isn't final at all, it's just a temporary call.
Soon the pages of a new book shall be revealed
Where the names of the righteous one are sealed;
For final isn't final at all, it's just a temporary call.
When the "Curtain of Darkness" is drawn,
Your weeping and mourning, don't prolong.
For final isn't final at all, it's just a temporary call.
The "Curtain of Eternal Life" will soon be opened
When our Master, our Saviour, Our Lord calls us home.
For final isn't final at all, it's just a temporary call.*

REFLECTIONS OF HER LIFE

At times in our life we have to walk through many valleys, some rough and deep, and some smooth. Also we have to climb mountains in our life, some high and some low, but whatever pathway we have to tread, always remember God is there with us guiding our every pathway until we reach our destination. God is with you by your side.

Rose Ann
Jones

Rose Ann Mivens Jones was born August 25, 1945, to the late B.C. Mivens and Ella Mae Foster Mivens. She departed this life on August 12, 2018.

She was a faithful work leader at the University of South Carolina as a Housekeeper. On August 6, 1975, she was united in holy matrimony to Sgt. Lee Marvin Jones. She was a faithful and dedicated mother and wife.

She enjoyed going on family trips, singing, listening to music, and serving Jesus Christ.

Rose was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, and siblings: Early Dean Foster, Emma Specks, Chris Mivens, Patricia Sullivan, Dale Mivens, Brenda Mivens, John Millhouse, Wallace Mivens, and Willie Mivens.

Rose Ann Mivens Jones leaves to cherish her precious memories: her sons: Dan (Iris) Mivens Sr., and Jack Stephenson both of Columbia; nine grandchildren, thirteen great-grandchildren, a great-great grandchild, siblings: Clyde Mivens, Joyce Mivens, and Bernice Mivens; and a host of nieces, nephews, and other family and friends who will miss her dearly.
