Obituary

Annie Mae Williams Wiley was born October 11, 1921 in Anderson, South Carolina. Annie Mae was called home to eternal rest on Saturday, September 24, 2016. She was 94 years old.

She was the second of three kids to Mr. Ed (Major) and Christine Williams. She had one sister, Lizzie Williams and one brother James Williams. She married Mr. Willie Wiley and remained married to him until his death.

Although Annie Mae had an elementary education, she was a very smart and wise woman. She taught her children and grandchildren many life lessons. Later in her adult life, Annie Mae went back to a school program where it enhanced her reading and writing abilities. Without much faith in the medical profession, Annie Mae rarely went to the doctor. She maintained her health from natural remedies and never had any major illnesses.

Annie Mae worked as a housekeeper for many years. She was a hard worker and took pride in her job. Annie Mae joined St. Paul's Baptist church and maintained her membership for many years. As a devoted member she served on the usher board and was very active in the church. Her interests included gardening. Annie Mae always kept beautiful flowers and plants around her home. Annie Mae was a strong and independent woman. You could catch her many times out in her yard cutting some wood for the fireplace.

Annie Mae was a stern but loving mother and grandmother who extended her love to anyone. She was loved and will truly be missed.

She leaves to cherish her memory, three grandchildren, Shell Mender of Atlanta, GA, Monique Williams of McDonough, GA and Michael Scott of New York, NY; ten great grandchildren and twenty great-great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Willie Wiley, parents, Major and Christine Wilkins Williams; three children, Andrew Williams (oldest), Annie Sue Thomas (baby girl) and John Henry Williams fondly known as Uncle Bunny; sister, Lizzie Williams; and brother, James Williams.
