

Yea, Though I Walk

*Am I afraid of dying? No,
Because death has no claim over me.*

Am I afraid of dying?

No, because even in death, I have victory.

Why would I be afraid when I have loved ones to see?

I am not afraid of dying

Because here on earth misery loves company.

I am not afraid of dying

Because the Lord will say well done,

I can lay my burdens down

Because my battle has been won.

Am I afraid of dying?

How? When the blood of Jesus set me free?

I am Ella Beaty and my God gets all the glory.

I am not afraid of dying

Not now, tomorrow or ever,

I will show no fear

Because where I'm going is so much better

Am I afraid of dying?

No, because my works are now working for me

Because greater is He that is in me

For now and eternity.

Obituary

Ella Lee Hatten Beaty, born on April 19, 1915, gained her wings to walk around heaven at the blessed age of 101, on January 6, 2017, at Hospice of the Upstate. Ella was the wife of the late Nathaniel Beaty. To this union five children were born. Ella was the last surviving of twelve siblings born to the late Feaster and Hattie Clinkscales Hatten.

Ella joined Shiloh Baptist Church at an early age. Ella faithfully attended Shiloh until her health recently declined.

Ella worked for many years as a Domestic Engineer for Sloan & Margaret Wilson and Richard & Johnnie Wilson.

Ella leaves to cherish her fond memories, her children, Nathaniel Beaty, Jr., William (Lois) Beaty, Hattie Loraine (Robert) Telford and Douglas M. (Gladys) Beaty; one special son-in-law, Alvin Hunter; sixteen grandchildren, forty-six great grandchildren and several great-great grandchildren; and a host of nieces and nephews.

Ella was preceded in death by one daughter, Dorothy Belle Beaty Hunter; and eleven siblings, Viola Hatten Clinkscales, Mary Ella Hatten Sherman, Luther Hatten, Walter Hatten, Lillie Hatten Williams, William Pharisee Hatten, Roscoe Hatten, Ernest Hatten, Florence Hatten, Robert Hatten and Catherine "Ochie" Hatten Anderson.
