A Time To Be Born

Juliette “Honey” Oliver Dollison was born to the late Jordan and Mollie Poole Oliver on September 07, 1915 in Baconton, GA. She was the youngest of fifteen children. “Honey” accepted Christ at an early age and became a member of Saint James Baptist Church in her hometown of Baconton, Georgia.

A Time To Live

Juliette “Honey” Oliver Dollison was joined in Holy Matrimony to the late JC Dollison in the early 1940’s. From this union seven children were born. One daughter (Glenelle Fawole) preceded her in death.

A Time To Depart

Around 10:15 P.M. on July 09, 2019, she heard the Master’s voice and eagerly answered him, saying “I’ve been waiting on you for a long time”.

My Legacy

Juliette “Honey” Oliver Dollison leaves life’s greatest memories to three daughters: Elizabeth Hill, Renda Bogan and Beverly (Orrie) Mosely, three sons: John Dollison, Joe Dollison and Vernon (Tina) Dollison Sr., sixteen grandchildren, eighteen great grandchildren, two great-great grandchildren and a host of nieces and nephews.

Dear Big MaMa:

Thank you for being a loving matriarch, a faithful nurturer, and our saving grace. Over the years, you’ve loved us unconditionally, fed us faithfully, prayed for us mercifully and rescued us invariably. Your love for us has been guardianship. We love you eternally! You will dwell in our hearts forever.
P.S. Thank you for giving all the boys the whoopings!

Dear MaMa:

Thank you for being our “Super Woman”.
You are definitely the wind beneath our wings.
We are going to shed tears because we are going to miss you. We won’t sorry as if we have no hope because we know that you are in the Holy Place.
