

Don't Grieve for Me

Don't grieve for me for now I'm free. I'm following the path God laid for me. I took his hand when I heard him call. I turned my back and left it all.

I could not stay another day; to laugh, to love, to work, or play. Tasks left undone must stay that way; I've found that peace at the close of day.

If my parting has left a void, then fill it with remembered joy.

A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, ah yes, these things I too will miss.

Be not burdened with times of sorrow: I wish you the sunshine of tomorrow.

My life's been full I've savored much, good times, good friends, a loved one's touch.

Perhaps my time seemed all to brief, don't lengthen it now with undue grief.

Lift up your heart and share with me, God wanted me now, he set me free.

Portland, Oregon

Delocha James Vaughn was born July 21, 1944 in Florence, Arizona to James Delocha Vaughn and Gladys Mae Frances Hill-Vaughn. He was the second of eight siblings. He relocated to Portland, Oregon at an early age and joined the U.S. Army where he served in the Airborne Unit. He spent his first tour in Okinawa, Japan and served an additional two tours in Viet Nam.

After being honorably discharged he returned to Oregon and held many trades. He worked in the shipyards as a welder and was a skilled wood carver who enjoyed making clocks.

Sammy was the family historian and often shared many stories of the families upbringing. One of his many traits was getting a rise out of his siblings. On the contrary, he was also well known for tickling his nieces. He loved to have fun playing spades and dominoes while sipping on his favorite adult beverage.

He had a special bond with all of his brothers. He shared living quarters with Jim and Andrew who recently preceded him in death. Also preceding him in death are his parents and son, Little Sam.

He leaves to mourn his memory, his grandson, his brothers James (Norma Jean) Vaughn of Madera, CA, Willie James Vaughn, James Dunbar, sisters Gloria (Butch) Graham, Nora Vaughn, Nellie (Carl) Hunter all of Portland, OR; Erin Bradley of Detroit, MI, Lois Beasley of Portland, OR and a host of nieces, nephews, and cousins.
