

I believe in farming, because it makes all this possible...

I believe man's greatest possession is his dignity and that no calling bestows this more abundantly than farming...

I believe hard work and honest sweat are the building blocks of a person's character...
I believe that farming, despite its hardships and disappointments, is the most honest and honorable way
a person can spend his days on this earth...
I believe farming nurtures the close family ties that make life rich in ways money can't buy...

I believe my children have learned values that will last a lifetime and could be learned in no other way...

I believe farming provides education for life and that no other occupation teaches so much about birth, growth, and maturity in such a variety of ways...

I believe many of the best things in life are indeed free:
the splendor of a sunrise, the rapture of wide open spaces,
the exhilarating sight of your land greening...

I believe true happiness
comes from watching your crops ripen in the field, watching your children grow tall in the sun, feeling the pride that springs in your whole family from their shared experience...

I believe that by my toil
I am giving more to the world than I am taking from it, an honor that does not come to all...

I believe when a person grows old and sums up his days, he should be able to stand tall and feel pride in the life he's lived...
