

*I thought we would get old & grey together,
And still be on the phone cackling like some hens,
About the good times we use to have.
But now I see God needed you now. I can't say I understand why, but I know the new Keisha would have told me to trust, and pray to God. I love you, and you will always hold a place in my heart that no one could ever replace. You will forever be my Fat Cheeks, and I will always be your Booza. Until God is ready for my raw chicken wings, I'll be missing you.*

I love you my Diamond Diva!

Angel

*I know a long life is not promised, but I was not prepared to lose my genuinely sweet and tell it like it is cousin Lakeisha!
Life and everyday responsibilities created some distance between us, but our connection never weakened.
I truly admired Lakeisha's love for family. Her bond with aunt Ann and Wanya was incredible. She was the glue that held them together.
Losing her will forever change them, but I hope the sweet memories of her contagious, bashful-like laugh and devotion allows them to smile through the pain....*

LaKeisha Monay Washington

*A Trendsetter
A Daughter
A Mother
A Aunt
A Niece
A Cousin
And a very good friend...
Loving, Caring & Giving with a big heart...*

She was a wonderful beautiful person that would always meet you with a smile. When you enter her block, and you smelled fried chicken you could tell it was hers... And she was famous for her Girls Nights with her friends....

She leaves to cherish: one son, Wanya L. Washington of Sanford, NC; her loving and caring mother, Shirley Ann Parker; her father, William Washington; one nephew, William Eugene Parker Jr. of Columbia, MD; three uncles, Peter West Jr., of Sanford, NC, Jimmie Brown, and Johnny Brown, both of Trenton, NJ; five aunts, Beverly Elsie West of Sanford, NC, Carolyn Johnson, and Melissa Brown of Trenton NJ, Shirley Blair, Sarah Brolell, both of Myrtle Beach, SC; and a host of other relatives and friends.
