Love

What is love?

Ella, my mother is the definition of love to me. The most beautiful and loving person in my life. Words cannot express the way I feel for her, her warm and giving heart has touched me very deeply and I am forever stamped with her grace. There's no women on earth that could replace her. What is Love? Ella, our mother and daughter relationship is irreplaceable, you may be gone in body but your spirit will forever live with me. The best part, your my mother, you gave me life and I am so thankful to be able to give you four granddaughters who love and cherish you as well, mom you are my world.

So, what is Love? Ella....

I love you, Your daughter, Lerlean

My Mom was a joy to be around, good spirit, good heart and would do anything for you. My mom was a person who was always considerate of others and always willing to help. My mom was a star that shined her light on me, I love her with all my heart and I am honored to be her daughter she made me the lady I am today.

Love your daughter, Sharron

Momma, the one who can't be replaced. Love her with every part of my being, words just can't describe the love I feel. She was truly that one that would give you half of her, always bringing good times and fun! Full of spirit you could not help but to love her, hell she would make you love here.

My Ells Mae, Your son, Vozine

My Mother, the most extraordinary mother, lady and women we know! She was and still is the most loving, caring and happiest person you've ever met of known. She's always there for any and every one and will do anything for you but most of all she will give her last and would spread her up-lifting beautiful spirit that will shine with her always.

Love, Kirb
