THE COMMITTAL

Someone we love has gone away and life just is not the same;
the greatest gift that you can give, is to speak of him by name.

We need to hear the stories and the tales of days gone past;
We need for you to understand we want the memories to last.

We cannot make more memories since he's no longer here;
So when you speak of him to us, its like music to our ears.

We will forever hold him close and long for him each day;
Our lives are different, our hearts are broken, every since he went away.
