

Our Aching Hearts

Our hearts are overflowing with sadness

And secret tears still flow

What it meant to lose you

No one can ever know

But now we know you want us

To mourn for you no more

To remember all the happy times

Life still has much in store.

Since you'll never be forgotten

We pledge to you today

A hallowed place within our hearts

Is where you'll always stay

God knows why, with chilling touch,

Death gathers those we love so much

And what now seems so strange and dim

Will all be clear, when we meet again

We will always love you.

Profile of Life

*"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death,
I will fear no evil: for thou art with me;
thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me."
Psalm 23:4*

Wherever we go, from our birth throughout our life and into the passage of death, the Lord is always and ever with us. When the time comes to bid this life farewell, we should find comfort in knowing that a loving God will be there with us to guide us to our new home.

As we gather in the spirit of celebration, to honor the life of a well-loved member of the Taylor family, our hearts are heavy, but we must accept God's will and honor him for Louise's seventy-four beautiful years, He allowed our loved one to remain here on Earth. The Lord can and will heal the poor in spirit and the brokenhearted.

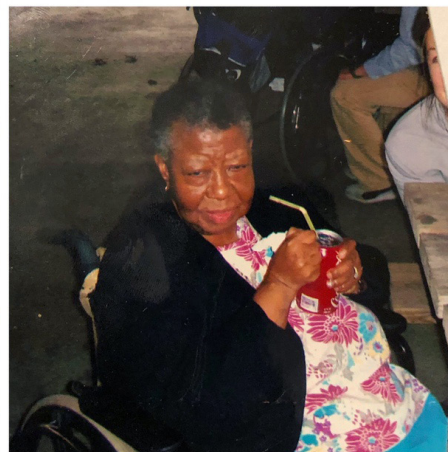

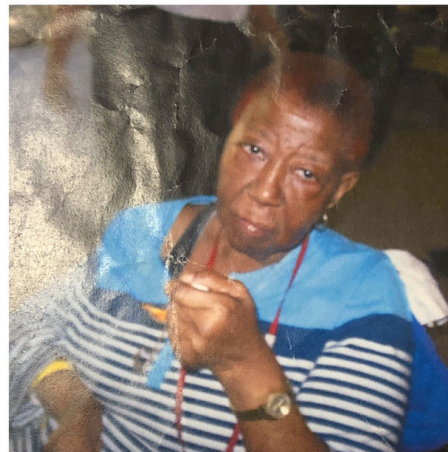

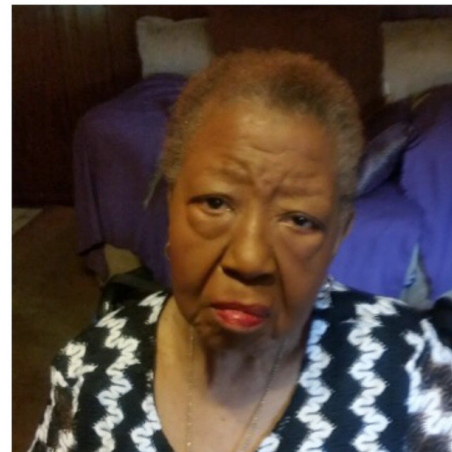

On January 25, 1947, in Eastover, South Carolina, the late Wilbert Taylor and the late Rosa Lee Howard Taylor were blessed to receive a precious baby girl, Louise Taylor. She was an amazing, honest, and outspoken daughter, sister, and aunt. God's plans are not always our plans. When His angels came for her on Tuesday morning, May 11, 2021, after a brief illness, this was much sooner than we planned, but we'll brave the grief that comes and try to understand.

Louise was homeschooled by her family. In her younger years, Louise enjoyed cooking dinner and spending time with family. While she did not give birth to children of her own, she was a mother figure to many. In October of 2020, Louise moved to Estill, South Carolina, and lived with her brother, Anderson, whom she loved dearly. An indicator of her happiness to be in Estill was the demonstration of the beautiful smile that she often displayed and greeted people with, when they visited the home. If you did not want to hear the truth about something, Louise wasn't the person to ask. She was going to express her honest opinion about the situation. She loved her family with all of her heart.

She was preceded in death by her parents; brothers and sisters, John, Wilbert Jr., Forrest Sr., Thomas, Annie Mae, Senna, Minnie, and Sallie; special niece and great-nephew, Tanya and Lamar.

Louise leaves to cherish her memories: two sisters, Frances Bell of Eastover, SC, and Dorothy (William) Springer of Columbia, SC; two brothers, Willie Taylor of Eastover, SC, and Anderson Taylor of Estill, SC; one sister-in-law, Emma Taylor of Columbia, SC; adopted family, the Martin Family; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives, and friends.
