

MY HERO

And in the year of 33AD,
My Hero, the Son of a King, died for my cause....

Lying in the arms of death,
My Hero was still strong,
Battered, bruised, spit upon,
And even called evil names,
My Hero was still strong s he
Waited for his Father's arrival.

His own people had chosen him to die,
Accused Him of untrue things and mocked Him.
They made Him drag His coffin on His back.

And when they got Him to that
Place where He would walk
Onto the palms of death hands, He held His head high,
For He was still proud and invincible.
After all they had done to Him,
His heart had still yet to grow cold.

So He looked up to the sky where the clouds were dark
And the thunder was roaring and asked His father to forgive
His wretched brothers and sisters.

And in last moments of life, while climbing onto the Steps of death's great carriage, my Hero stretched out His arms

And died...For Me.

And His name is JESUS.
