Sharon Cook

Was born on November 26, 1953 in Newark, New Jersey.

There she grew up and flourished into a beautiful young woman, full of joy, laughter, and goodwill. Sharon enjoyed people and loved to talk, she also enjoyed traveling. But her greatest joy were her grandchildren, whom she adored and doted on.

Sharon worked in several jobs in clerical and administrative capacities. She lived in Virginia for a while, then back to New Jersey. Sharon found that she liked Southern living and moved further south to North Carolina. Although she was in North Carolina for a short time, she made her presence known with her beautiful smile and welcoming personality. She will missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing her.

Sharon leaves to cherish memories with her 3 daughters, Cherri Cook, Patsy Pearson and Sharonda Wood, her precious grandchildren, Darnell Washington, Dionna Cook, Derek Cook, Chantel Williams, James Pearson, Ty Pearson, Andre Pearson, Yasmin Cook, Quotia Tilghman and Quinton Tilghman, also 3 great-grandkids; a special cousin whom she loved like a sister, Betsy Moye, and a host of cousins, other relatives and friends.
