Miss Me, But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the Son has set me free
I want no rites in a gloom filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?

Miss me a little, but not too long
And not with your heads bowed low
Remember the love that we once shared
Miss me, but let me go.

For this is a journey that we all must take
And each must go alone
It's all a part of the Master's plan,
A step on the road to home.

When you are lonely and sick at heart
Go to the friends we know
And bury your sorrow in doing good deeds
Miss me, but let me go!

Everything she was in, she worked diligently with no hassle and a big smile on her face.

While working in the vineyard doing God's work, she still maintained her home life. She was a devoted mother, sister, grandmother, and just a God-fearing woman. She will be truly missed in a lot of areas, but God saw she was tired from all her labor and brought her on home to live in paradise to suffer no more.

She was united in holy matrimony to James B. Register, Jr. To this union a son was born.

Preceding her in death were her parents, Homer and Ida Shipman; sisters, Martha Thurman, Naomi Holloway, and Mary C. Shipman.

Left to cherish fond memories are her husband, James B. Register, Jr.; son, Terrance Delon Register (Miranda) of Whiteville, North Carolina; grandchildren, Mahalia, Eboney, and Brandon; sisters, Annie Bryant of Yonkers, New York, Estella Shipman of Washington, DC, and Ida Ham of Durham, North Carolina; brothers, Hubert Shipman and Duvall Shipman (Montez) of Clarkton, North Carolina, and Rudolph Shipman (Doretha) of Las Vegas, Nevada; sisters-in-law, brothers-in-law, a host of nieces, nephews, and other relatives.
