To our beloved Grandmother
The true definition of resiliency is the character you in stowed upon us all. Your love and laughter filled our hearts with warmth.
The love of a grandmother never dies, only our human bodies. Every night when we lay down and unwind, we can see your beautiful smile
and warm touch all over again.
We love you to the woman called Gramps.
In our struggles we will remember to be as resilient as you.
We all love you, our sweet beautiful
Grandmother.
