

Road to Eternity

Life is but a stopping place.
A pause in what's to be,
A resting place along the road,
To sweet eternity.
We all have different journeys,
Different paths along the way.
We all were meant to learn some things.
But never meant to stay....
Our destination is a place,
Far greater that we know,
For some the journey's quicker,
For some, the journey's slow.
But when the journey finally ends,
We'll claim a great reward,
And find an everlasting peace,
Together with the Lord.

Jerome Brown

Jerome Brown affectionately known as Tiny Baby, second oldest son of the late Mamie McCoy Brown and Willie Allen Brown, was born August 21, 1957, in Whiteville, North Carolina. The Lord saw fit to call him from labor to rest Sunday evening, September 27, 2020, at the Pinehurst Healthcare & Rehabilitation Center. Pinehurst, North Carolina.

He received his education in Whiteville, North Carolina. Shortly after school, he enrolled in Job Corps and began his training to become a carpenter. Jerome was known around town as a handyman and Jack of all trades. He continued this trade until his health begin to fail him.

He leaves to cherish his memory, a daughter, Monique of Port St. Lucie, Florida; sisters Carolyn Willis (Herman) of Clarendon, North Carolina, Faye Meares (Vincent) of Fayetteville, North Carolina, Gail Baldwin (Charles) of Whiteville, North Carolina; brothers, Richard Brown (Patsy), Tony Brown (Wanda), and Chris (Erika) of Whiteville, North Carolina; grandchildren, Jasmine, Dimitrius, Jerome, Makira, Kmorria, Zaiden, and one great grandson Ralo all of Port St. Lucie, Florida, aunts Bessie Singerton of Baltimore, Maryland and Louise (James) Purdie of Southern Pines, North Carolina; uncle, James (Gwen) McKoy of Mililani, Hawaii; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends, and his oldest brother who preceded him in death.
